Aurora Favors Ice Debentures By 3 To 1 Vote

Aurora — Aurora is to have artificial ice. Last Friday the ratepayers of Aurora went to the polls and endorsed the installation of artificial ice in the Aurora Memorial Arena by a 75 percent majority.

Out of a possible 1,247 eligible voters, 946 turned out to mark their ballots. Of these, 517 voted yes with only 120 voting no.

Plans are expected to get under way immediately. At a special meeting of council to be held on May 16 council hopes to have before it the necessary debenture by-law.

The debenture of $65,000 will take care of the proposed installation of the ice plant and the necessary structural changes in the arena itself. These include a one-storey addition of 30'x100' to the west end of the arena which, set on a solid cement block, will house dressing rooms, ice plant and heating rooms, offices, refreshment booths and storage rooms. The new addition provides for an increase in the present seating capacity of the arena.

'Charity Begins' Travels To Creemore Stage

Newmarket — Although the three-act comedy, Charity Begins, staged by the Newmarket Dramatic club at the Newmarket Town Hall three nights last week, ended the productions here for this season, it is enthusiastic about going on tour.

The cast in Charity Begins has accepted an invitation to Creemore—which is the furthest afield the Newmarket Dramatic Club has ever ventured. Despite the royalty on the play, the club is offering the show to sponsoring organizations at their usual low flat rate.

Aurora Firemen Kept Busy on Weekend

Aurora — The past few days have been busy for the Aurora fire department which was called out to three different fires within four days.

On Friday a bush fire destroyed from three to four acres of standing pine on the sixth of King. Sunday witnessed a minor chimney fire at King City. On Monday a children's play house on Matchel Ave. was destroyed.

Give Vets Lease To Old Fair Grounds

Newmarket—A ten-year lease on the fair grounds property was granted the Newmarket Veterans' Association by town council on Monday night so the Vets can establish the "Newmarket Veterans' Memorial Park" where they plan to install a ball diamond, floodlights and other sports facilities.

Doug May, president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, says that the Vets want to make use of the land for a community sports centre for summer as well as winter. A delegation of Vets headed by the president asked council for a ten-year lease at an annual rental of $1. A motion introduced by Councillors Charles VanZant and Rudy Renis which was passed, covers the Vets' request excluding the former army drill hall in the centre of the fair grounds.

Council subjected the lease to necessary agreement by the public school board in case of an overlapping of school grounds near the site of the new school which might conflict with the department of education specifications. The lease is also subject to the approval of town council after a trial two years.

Mr. May said that the association would erect a fenced baseball diamond so that money could be raised at the games and would also install floodlighting. Both Mr. May and council agreed that there would be plenty of room outside the ball diamonds for children to play and for other games at the same time. He said that the association would welcome the assistance of the recreation commission, Lions club, in any extra facilities, that it would be a community park but that the Veterans' Association would take the responsibility for it.

He said that other organizations would be free to do what they want with it in the line of sports and recreation. He said the use of the race track could bring greater possibilities toward the proposed sports centre. With floodlighting in an outdoor rink would be ideal, he said. On the mayor's comment that there would be a $5,000 provincial grant open for the memorial park (Page 10, Col. 4)

Davis Leather Honors Two Retiring Employees

Newmarket—A luncheon was held at the King George hotel at noon Friday in honor of George Vale who retired May 1 after being employed by the Davis Leather Company since January 14, 1906. Employees presented several gifts to Mr. Vale who is the fifth man to be retired under the new Davis Leather Company pension plan.

William H. Lawson was also retired from the Davis plant on April 1. Mr. Lawson had been with the company since May 1, 1904. He worked on the construction of the plant in that year, and working with the company he eventually became chief millwright. Both men are being retired on the pension plan started in 1947 but will retain their connection in a consulting capacity. Mr. Lawson was born in 1873 and Mr. Vale in 1871.

George Vale, whose son is Jos. Vale, mayor of Newmarket, has been an accountant with the company and will be missed by his fellow employees in the Davis office who state that he

Object To Dump Levy Toll On Trucks

Aurora — Appearing before the Aurora council Monday evening Dick Buchanan, whose trucks collect Aurora's garbage, announced his intention of resigning unless council soon found a new garbage dump.

According to Mr. Buchanan present dump is accessible only by means of one road and protesting neighbors have banded together and he is now forced to pay $1.50 each trip in order to enter the dump.

Payments of the special toll charge costs Mr. Buchanan $18 per week.

has always been popular there. "He has so much vigor for a man of his age and he has lost very little time through illness since he has worked here," said one employee.

Newmarket — Keys for five new houses were presented to five Newmarket veterans by Mayor Jos. Vale at the official opening of Armitage Heights, the new low rental housing subdivision, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The first of the five veterans was the 25th person to take over one of the new houses.

The construction of the houses was started last August by Carter Construction Company, the project being undertaken by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. The first occupancy was on March 15.

A large crowd of townspeople including representatives from the Legion, Veterans' Association, town council and other civic bodies, attended the presentation ceremonies as well as representatives from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and Carter Construction Company. William O'Reilly of Central Mortgage spoke briefly at the opening, introducing Mr. McChaskey, regional supervisor.

"A good part of the credit for getting this subdivision goes to the town," said Mr. McChaskey. He presented the keys from C. M. Carter of Carter Construction Company to the mayor who in turn presented them to the five veterans, Percy James Pemberton, John W. McDonald, Tom Gillespie, James E. Cullen and William F. Armour. The mayor added that every person living in the houses would be a veteran with a child or children.

"It is our privilege to co-operate with the federal and provincial governments in this housing project," said the mayor. "You won't know it in a year when it is sodded down and landscaped."

Maj. Lex Mackenzie, M.P.P., and also Arthur Walwyn, P.C., candidate for York North, spoke briefly congratulating the town on the project. Major Mackenzie expressed the regrets of Hon. Arthur Welsh, minister of Planning and Development, at not being able to attend the opening. In all, the three levels of government, federal, provincial and municipal, taking part in the project, were represented.

Also speaking briefly were Maj. Tom Ewing, president of the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion, Alfred Elphinstone, vice-president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association and C. M. Carter of Carter Construction Company. Mr. Carter announced that the company had completed its 75th house. He also expressed his appreciation of how Newmarket welcomed the men working on the project at Eagle St. and made them feel at home.

Mayor Vale added that there would have been no new subdivision if it had not been for the energies of the town council which, he said, worked hard to get it.

"George Byers, a former councillor, was the first to bring the possible project to my attention," he said. "Later Mr. Spillette and I made a special trip to Ottawa about it and all the councillors spent considerable time on it."

Two of the houses were opened to the public and refreshments were served later at the Legion hall.

V.O.N. Nurse Resigns

Aurora — It was announced at the Victorian Order of Nurses tea held in Trinity Parish Hall last Saturday afternoon that Miss Claire Hicks, V.O.N. nurse, was urgently required at her home and had been forced to resign.

The gratitude of Aurora for the outstanding work of Miss Hicks was expressed in a presentation to her of two sets of blankets by Mrs. J. C. Lee and Mrs. T. Dann on behalf of the V.O.N. board. The board has given assurance that the complete V.O.N. program will continue despite Miss Hicks' absence. Until the arrival of the new nurse, July 1, the V.O.N. work will be carried on by volunteer nurses, Miss Graham and Mrs. Rod Caldwell.

Mill Rate 41, To Debenture For Heavy Town Costs

Newmarket — Three members of council opposed the 1949 mill rate when council adopted the budget Monday night which brought the mill rate down four mills from last year, from 45 to 41. Voting against the mill rate being set at 41 were councillors Charles VanZant, R. C. Morrison and Lorne Paynter.

Suggesting that the mill rate be 43 mills, Councillor VanZant said "A lot of people are not beefing about the tax rate but they are beefing about services."

Said Mr. Paynter, "People are making more money these days". He added that it was his opinion that the mill rate should not be flexible because of the increase in assessments. "I don't see why we should cut the mill rate after we have equalized the assessments. Are we lowering the mill rate just to be good fellows in the eyes of the public only to raise it again next year?" he asked.

R. C. Morrison said that he would like to see another two mills on the tax rate and held out for at least one more than the figure the finance committee set. It was also Morrison's suggestion that the cost of drilling for water be debentured instead of keeping it on current finances. The policy of council has been to wait until the water supply project is successful in striking a well with an adequate supply before debenturing.

The mayor and finance committee chairman, Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette, said that the budget as presented to council showed the best system of financing. In reply to VanZant's criticism of the services, the mayor said, "The people are not beefing about the services but they may be beefing about the need for improvements that come under debenture spending." Mr. Spillette indicated that any improvements on sidewalks or roads this year would not be debentured until next year and were not concerned with current finances.

Reeve Arthur D. Evans said that consideration had to be given to the working man and the small home owner. "Although there is a four-mill reduction, the re-assessment of property last fall means a very large increase on some property owners," said Mayor Vale. "We are budgeting the same as last year plus another $25,000. Some people will have steep increases in their taxes but for the man who has not had an increase in his assessment, it will mean a reduction in his taxes," he said.

Answering Mr. Paynter's suggestion that the mill rate should not be flexible, Deputy-Reeve Spillette said, "You are going by the Newmarket Era and Express. The Era doesn't know the score." Mr. Paynter replied that his judgment was in no way governed by the press.

Later the Deputy-Reeve said, "There are a couple of individuals here who are always talking about fluctuating tax rates. I tell you, you can't tell what your costs are going to be in the coming year. Not even Superman could tell."

Newmarket — The budget for 1949 with a tax rate of 41 mills, a reduction of four mills from last year, was adopted by town council at a special meeting on Monday night. Using new assessment figures, the taxes to be levied for general purposes and schools will bring approximately $24,200 more revenue than last year for a total of $225,717.

When the budget came to a vote, Councillors Paynter, Morrison and VanZant voted against it.

According to finance committee chairman, Deputy Reeve Spillette, who presented the budget to council, there is a total increase in expenditures for 1949 of $25,700 and a total decrease in revenue of $1,630 compared to the 1948 figure.

If the mill rate were left at 45 there would be an approximate increase of $30,000, according to a statement by Mr. Spillette at the council meeting. Said Mr. Spillette, "We are giving back the public $14,000 by taking 4 mills off the tax rate."

Of expenditures on 13 regular items, 14 show increases in expenditure and four show decreases. A few of the increases are: salaries, $4,380 over last year; law costs, $500; pension and insurance plan for employees, $2,000; survey of Main St. for improvements, $1,500; garbage, $2,000; market and property, $2,600 and the county rate, $2,600. There is a substantial decrease on high school expenditures of $4,100.

The road and bridge budget, showing an increase of $10,700 can not be quoted as a true figure since there has been a confusion of shifting finances involving $11,000 in salaries and certain improvements being debentured.

Had there been no re-assessment of property in the last year, it is estimated that there would have been a 50 mill rate this year.

The 41 mills are broken up as follows, General Rate, 22.5 mills; Public and Separate Schools, 9.7 mills; High School, 1.7 mills; County Rate, 2.6 mills; Relief Costs, .6 mills; and Library, .4 mills.

New School Modern In All Ways

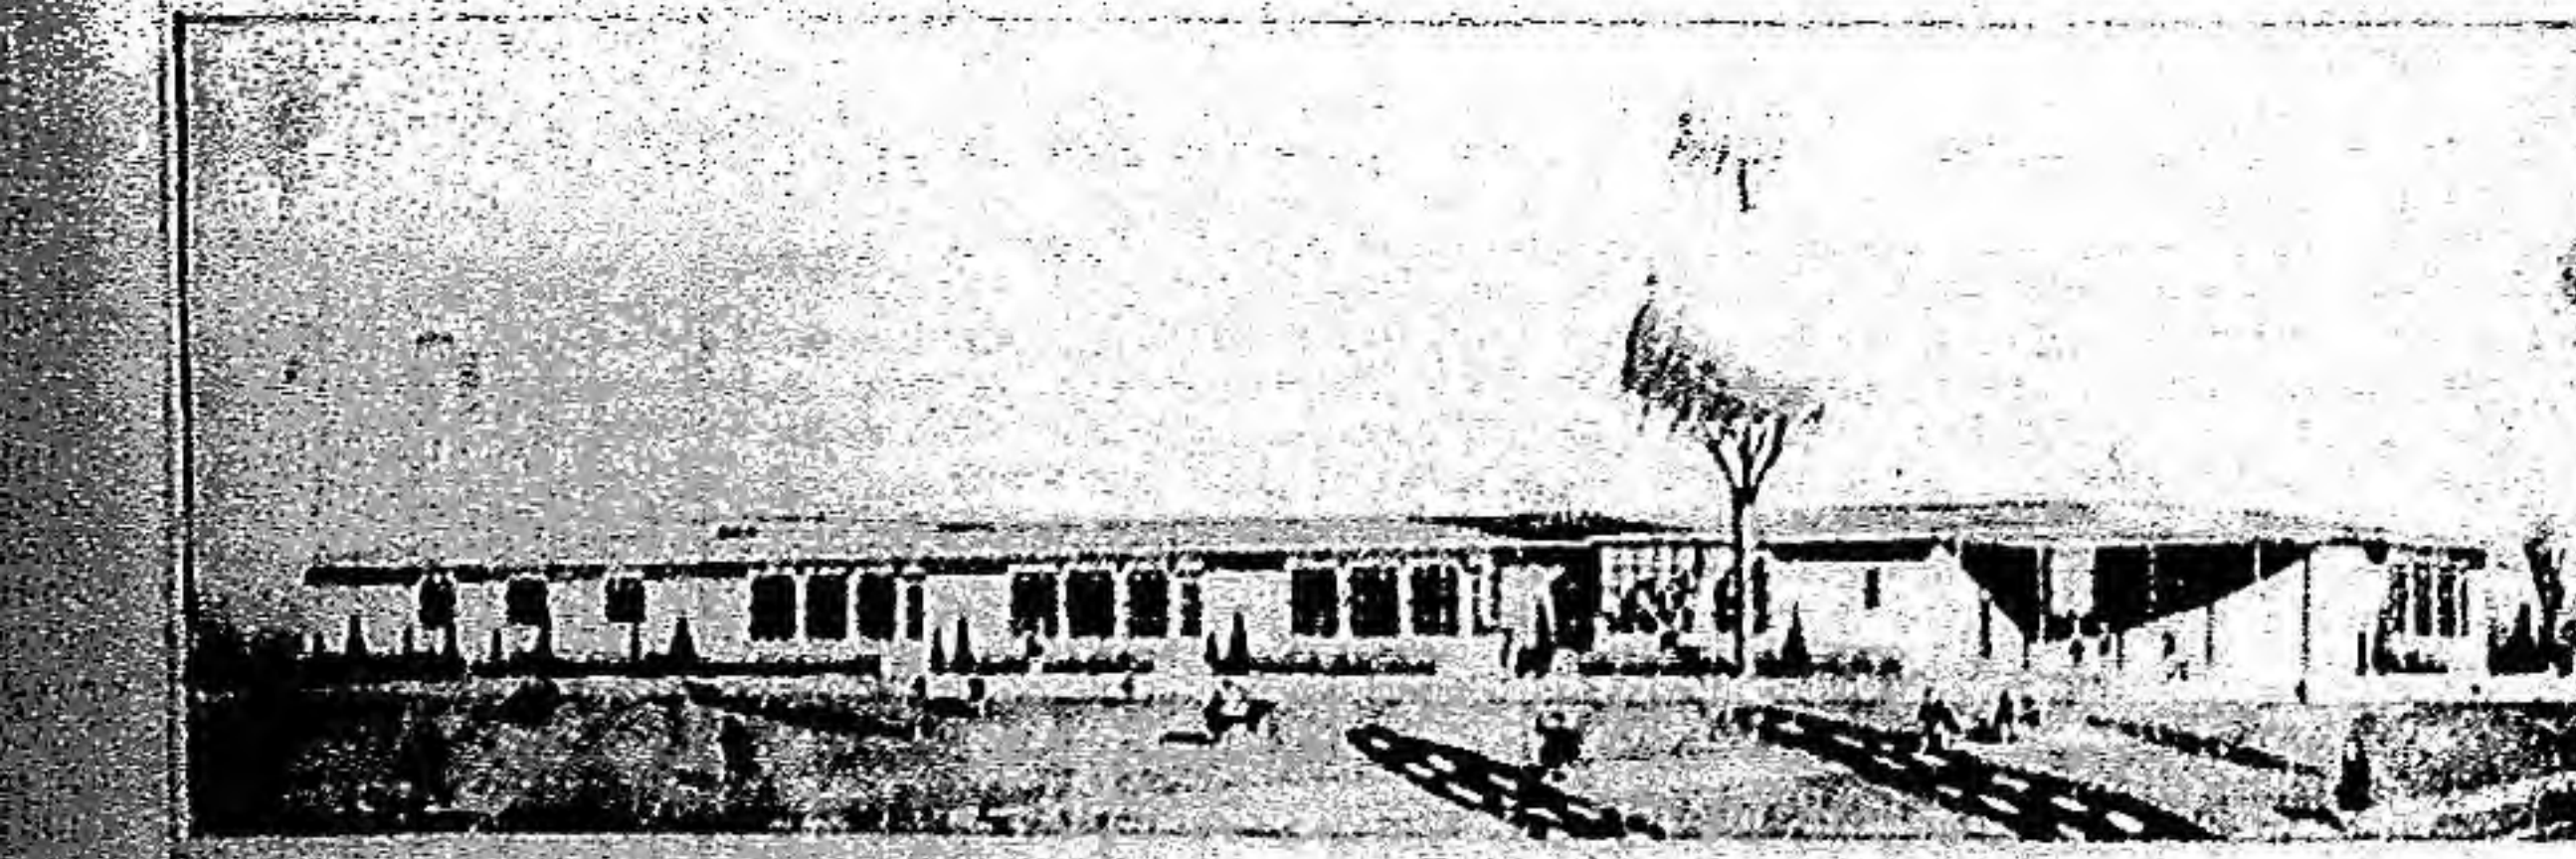

Newmarket — The new public school will be situated on the south-west corner of Strigley Ave. and Muriel St. on the site of some of the old camp buildings. This type of school is somewhat similar to those erected recently in Scarborough area by the same architects, Murray Brown and Elton. It contains six classrooms, all on one floor at ground level, with principal's and medical offices, teachers' room, kitchenette, library, washrooms for teachers and pupils, janitor's room, store room, etc. There is no basement, the boiler and fuel rooms being four feet below the ground floor level rather than in a basement where water trouble might be encountered.

One of the classrooms is somewhat larger than a normal room, and can be converted into a small auditorium for school or community use, by opening a "concertina" type of partition formed of leatherette between this classroom and the teachers' room, so that this latter room acts as a stage for the auditorium when desired. Off this teachers' room is a kitchenette, and large storage closet. The stage is planned so that access is available to it from both sides, which would be a distinct advantage if the school or community should wish to use it for theatrical purposes. This auditorium will seat approximately 175 persons.

Kindergarten
One of the other classrooms is a kindergarten with large bay window facing the south, and separate junior lavatories for the boys and girls at their own individual entrances from the porches. The floor of this room contains heating coils ensuring comfort for the youngsters. (Page 10, Col. 4)

The new public school to be built on Strigley St. presents a low, pleasing appearance. One-floor design saves space and gives each classroom plenty of warmth. Entrance is to the right, and this view shows the offices and storage to the left.

Series Traces History Of Job Hughes Friends' Minister Of Yonge St. 1805-7

By ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

The editor considers himself most fortunate to be able to print the following series of articles on the life of Job Hughes, Friends' Minister of Yonge St. from 1805-07, from the pen of Ethel Willson Trehwella. Mrs. Trehwella is well known for her historical writings. A recent series on Samplers, appearing in The Era and Express was well received.

There are four instalments in the current series, the first of which appears below. The article represents painstaking research by Mrs. Trehwella and will be, we believe, a valuable addition to the history of York county.

Historians have long realized that the importance of the minute books of the Society of Friends cannot be over-estimated. If those early minute books could be endowed with the power of volition and would speak of much which lies behind the brief entries on the yellowed pages what volumes of human interest might they reveal; what vast movements had their beginnings in the weighty decisions recorded in those epitomes of language! At once would the years fall away. Behind the gossamer veil again would pass those valiant spirits who in the long ago had acted their roles in the drama of history!

Extant is a book of minutes which certifies that on the eighth day of the ninth month (old style), 1682, at Shackamaxon, on the banks of the Delaware River, "At this time Governor Penn and a multitude of Friends arrived here and erected a city called Philadelphia". (From Janney's Life of William Penn.)

Since the occasion which prompted the above minute more than 250 years have passed. At that time forces were set loose which, in their silent way, have brought fundamental changes to every corner of this North American continent.

In a book of records of the early Friends on Yonge Street is another concise minute. It appeared to be significant. From it the story of that courageous Friend, Job Hughes, a Friends' minister of Pennsylvania and of Yonge Street, Canada, was pieced together and re-traced to the mother settlement of Friends across the border.

"14-1-1808 — the Meeting appoints Amos Armitage and Thomas Linville to—prepare a memorial concerning our deceased friend, Job Hughes, for the approbation of next Meeting.

"10-2-1808—Memorial produced and approved. Directed to be forwarded to Meeting for sufferings."

A resume of the genealogy of Job Hughes shows that his ancestors were all Welsh Quakers. His great-grandfather was born in the district of Gwynedd, Merionethshire, North Wales, in 1632. John ap Hugh left the land of his birth with his wife, Martha, and the company of a group of their countrymen—sailing from the Port of Liverpool, on May the first, 1693. The journey lasted nearly 11 weeks, and a sad one it was, for no less than 45 of the little party died of dysentery. An account by one of the company, Edward Foulke, states that two or three corpses were cast overboard every day while it lasted. At last, on the 17th day of July their ship, the Robert and Elizabeth, arrived at the port of Philadelphia where they were warmly received by a number of their countrymen who had come earlier. This particular group founded the community of Gwynedd in Pennsylvania, naming it after their home district. Ellis Hughes, who was born 1687 and died 1764, was the son of John ap Hugh, and on the fourth of the fifth month, 1713, at Gwynedd Meeting, he married Jane Foulke, daughter of Edward Foulke. He and his wife were both staunch Friends—Jane an Elder of Exeter Monthly Meeting for about 30 years, and the same Meeting published a testimony to the high qualities of the character and work of her husband. William Hughes, born 1716 and died 1760, was the second son of Ellis and Jane Hughes. On the fourth of the first month, 1738, at Exeter Meeting he married Amy Willets, and Job Hughes, our subject, was their second child. He was born the 15th of the seventh month, 1740. He was a birthright member of Exeter Monthly Meeting, and in 1799 he was recorded as a minister of Catawissa Monthly Meeting. Job Hughes was twice married—first to Esther Wright, daughter of Thomas and Sibilla (Pearson) Wright. Esther died about 1771. Then on the 16th of the fifth month, 1776, in the Friends' Meeting House at Exeter he married Eleanor, daughter of Thomas and Eleanor (Ellis) Lee.

The sufferings of early Friends because of non-conformity is well known. Their persecution during and following the American Revolution is a record of history, but the years which have elapsed vividly portray the change in thought since the then prevailing attitude towards war. From the beginning of Quakerism George Fox and his followers believed that if Christianity did not destroy war then war would destroy Christianity. Looking back across the centuries that testimony of Friends regarding respect of human life and rights of the individual which was accepted in those earliest days is still the testimony of the Society. The final minute of a historic meeting held by Friends in London during the crisis of 1938 re-affirms this interpretation: "We have looked over the world and at home, and we have seen everywhere the denial of those standards of human relationships which Jesus Christ showed to us. Some evils stand out clearly, some we know that we are only beginning to recognize. God has met us here, and in His presence we have re-affirmed the testimony of our Society against all war for whatever purpose, and have determined to make that testimony our own today!"

Two world wars have demonstrated unmeasured evidence of this conviction.

In this saga of Welsh-American Friends these colonists of the Gwynedd settlement later made their way across country to the New Indian Purchase in northern Pennsylvania. Already the name of Hughes is frequently found among those of the earliest settlers in the neighborhood of Exeter and Catawissa. Prominent among these last was that of Moses Roberts, a young man who had presented a certificate of removal from Gwynedd to Exeter Monthly Meeting.

In this Meeting he married Jane Lee, a sister to Eleanor, wife of Job Hughes. Some five years prior to 1780 this young man had purchased land from Ellis Hughes, a brother of Job. The background of this Friend, Job Hughes, probably would emerge in better relief if some contemporary incidents, incidents common to both young men, were recalled as they are recorded in the Journal of 1780 by Moses Roberts. This Journal contains an account of his concern for removal to Catawissa where he later was joined by Job Hughes. Both Moses Roberts and Job Hughes were outstanding leaders in this pioneer settlement as well as in the establishment of the Meeting—they were intimately associated in the events of that place and time.

One is touched with a feeling of tenderness when reading this Journal of Moses Roberts by the underlying spirit of meekness and transparent sincerity which were characteristic attributes of the Friends of that day. It well illustrates that indwelling mysticism of spiritual guidance and illumination of the divine way—that obedience to the dynamic revelations of the Inner Light. From the inception of the Society individuals have bowed to this compelling force; they have steadfastly maintained the efficiency of that unique Sermon on the Mount as the criterion of social re-adjustment. As such this sketch of the activities of Job Hughes must present him as an integral part of the great movement of Friends, when from the time of George Fox heroic souls had held the torch aloft. They faced the horrors of primitive ocean travel to a new land, they trekked across the rugged frontiers of the Indian country in northern Pennsylvania to a still more recent wilderness in Upper Canada. Through these intrepid Quakers time has made manifest a distinctive purposeful leading through avenues of philanthropic service to an awakening of a militant public conscience.

"So at this roaring loom of time we ply, And weave the garment ye see God by!"

To quote the Journal—"My mind and inclination drew me much into the New Purchase, and with the consent of Friends I several times visited them and had meetings for worship near Catawasey aforesaid, and always felt the sweet return of inward peace with God in my soul both day and night that I should endeavor to settle a meeting for worship of the Lord Almighty in the New Purchase—I removed with my family and settled on a piece of land near Catawasey, and we concluded to meet together twice in the week to worship the Father in Spirit and in Truth, according to Christ's direction to the woman of Samaria." We find that this small group of Moses Roberts and Job Hughes and their families with neighbors and friends formed the original body of Friends to settle and found a Meeting in those remote regions around Catawissa. The traditional site which Job Hughes selected for his home lies about three miles to the south of Catawissa in the Roaring Creek Valley where the Susquehanna River peacefully curves through a country of lush farm and meadow land. It is literally a 'watered garden' surrounded by hills and wooded slopes which stretch far beyond in a panorama of scenic beauty. In the Indian language Catawissa is a corruption from Gattawissa, 'growing fat'—probably from the Indians having killed a deer along the creek when the deer fatten. (From the Reference Library, quoting 'The American Indian' by Elijah M. Haines, Chicago 1886.) (To be continued next week)

Mrs. Leslie Morton

Kewick — Lakeside Women's Institute held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Percy Mahoney. A clever, interesting and instructive paper on "Ornamental Gardening" was given by the "Agriculture and Canadian Industry" convenor, Miss Roslyn van Norman.

Gratitude was expressed for the excellent work of the retiring secretary, Mrs. George Whyte. At a former meeting, Mrs. Whyte, who is continuing in office as district director, gave a splendid report of the directors' meeting held in Newmarket.

Members felt honored in having our past district president, Mrs. Jack Baines, install the officers. Her encouraging comments were greatly appreciated. The nominating committee of Mrs. Percy Mahoney, Mrs. Winston Prosser, Mrs. Roydon Connell, submitted the following report, officers of Lakeside W.I. for 1949-50:

Hon. pres., Mrs. Percy Mahoney; pres., Mrs. Leslie Morton; first vice-pres., Mrs. Murville Connell; second vice-pres., Mrs. Winston Prosser; sec., Mrs. Paul Dolan; treas., Mrs. Jack Gable; directors, Mrs. Orvan Huntley, Mrs. Gordon Harper, Mrs. Joel Hopkins; district director, Mrs. George Whyte; pianist, Mrs. M. W. Connell; assistant pianist, Mrs. Harold Pollard.

Sick and flower convenor, Mrs. Gordon Harper; auditors, Mrs. Ted Leonard, Mrs. Milford Rye; convenor of standing committees, agriculture, Miss Roslyn van Norman; home economics, Mrs. Frank Marritt; historical research, Mrs. Percy W. Mahoney; citizenship, Mrs. Robert Serick; social welfare, Miss Eva Gilroy; publicity, Mrs. Daniel McGenerty, Mrs. Leslie Morton. Following the program refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed by the good attendance of members and visitors.

ARMITAGE

(Too late for last week)

The Community Club met at the school on Friday evening, April 22, with about 40 in attendance and enjoyed a review program and games. Miss Jean Rose from Newmarket favored us with two very beautiful piano solos. Plans are being made for a new ball diamond, a dance and a picnic.

Mr. Morley Cook suffered a painful accident last Saturday when he lost the end of his finger.

Miss Lynn Reid spent the Easter vacation with her grandparents in Toronto. The Community Club is holding a dance at Bluebird Inn Friday night, May 6, and as there have been so many requests, a good crowd is expected. It would be a good idea to put the tractor away and meet your neighbors at the hall for one more real old-time hoe-down.

Easter holidays went too quickly for the children, but there's only two months to go until summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Nye have moved to Aurora—not too far away to be out of the community activities.

SCHOMBERG

Mrs. Chas. Duke has returned home after spending the winter months in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sutton, Markham, spent the weekend with Mr. J. Sutton.

Master Jackie Foran spent a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carr, in Toronto.

Mrs. T. Coulter is visiting at her parental home at Bolton this week.

The Evening Branch of the W.A. held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Thompson on Monday.

William Hall passed away on Friday, April 29, at his home in Lloydtown. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hall. His health had been failing the last six years but death came as a great shock to his parents and the community as he was just 19.

Onions are worth growing in the home garden because they give a lot yet take little space. There are white, red and yellow varieties of onions, and there are early, medium and late crops, so it pays to "know your onions" before planting them.

Onions are grown from seeds, sets and transplants, also called seedlings. Unless onions are planted early in northern zones it is best to set out "sets" or transplants.

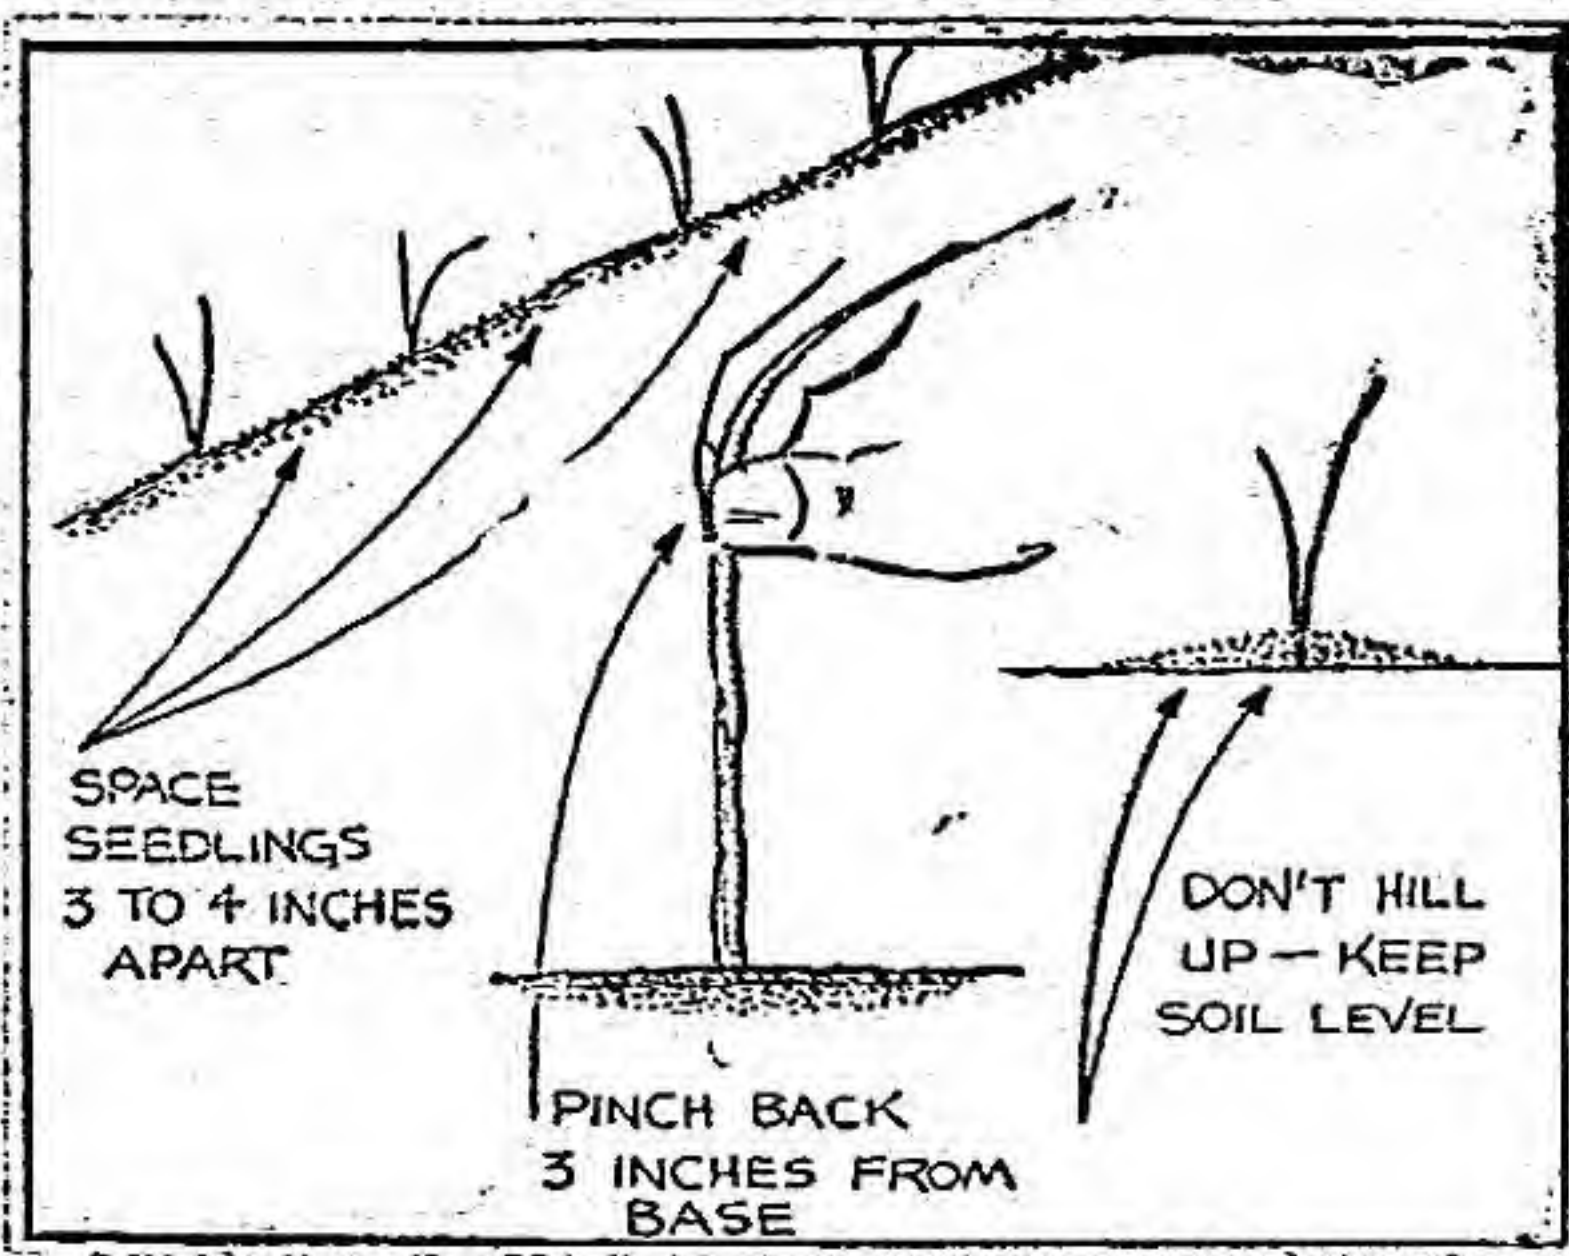

Seeds should be planted as early as the soil can be worked. For best results with onions the soil should be fine, fertile and well drained. The young plants must be kept free from weeds by frequent and shallow cultivation. Weeds between the plants must be pulled by hand, so don't make your onion planting too large.

The onion seedlings which are pulled out at thinning time should be saved. The sturdiest of them can be replanted three to four inches apart in rows, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Such onions as are transplanted should have the tops pinched back to within three inches of the base of the plant, as illustrated. Don't hill up the soil about the young plants.

Don't try to grow onions from seed planted in poor soil, or in sod-soil which has just been turned. You will waste both seed and time.

Clean Up Week
Newmarket — A "Clean-up
Week" will be held in Newmarket from May 16 to May 21.
Sponsored by the Newmarket
Horticultural Society this endeavor needs the backing of every citizen in the community to make it a success. Soon the tourists will be passing through our town on their way to Lake Simcoe. If we want them to stop and shop in our community we must make it more attractive.
The first step—a major cleanup. Private properties, school grounds as well as the Main St.
need a thorough housecleaning job to help beautify our town through cleanliness.
The saying goes that practice makes perfect, so let's try for the next ten days not to throw papers and cigarette packages on the streets and by the time that clean-up week arrives we shall have formed the habit of civic tidiness. To assist in this task, it is hoped that waste disposal boxes will be placed on the Main St.

Clean up and where necessary,
paint, repair and generally improve your private property.
Don't wait for your neighbor to start. Make your own lot a shining example of cleanliness and others will follow.
Boys and girls can give a real helping hand by keeping the school grounds neat and free from litter. They can use a rake in the home garden and help
Mom and Dad gather old boughs and other trash that has accumulated since last fall. Civic cleanliness is a virtue—let every citizen of Newmarket cultivate it.

Great Stir and Bustle
For N.H.S. Spring Prom

Newmarket—The younger set this week has been all agog about tomorrow night's big plans
—the Spring Prom at the high school. Music for the occasion will be provided, through the courtesy of the Robert Simpson
Co. Ltd., by the band of Benny Louis. About 250 are expected to be present to trip the light fantastic (or their partners?).
Perchance this might become an annual affair. "Ouch," my aching pocket book," moans poor
Pop.
Mothers are working against time to have all the new finery ready for the important date.
Past are the hours of deliberation over the choice of pattern, material and all those other matters so dear to the female heart. Conversation among the fair sex hinges on descriptions of the new, and in many cases the first, evening dress.
Among the He-Men the aspect of the picture is viewed from the financial outlook. Can we borrow the family car or will it mean a taxi? What about a cottage? Parents who to date have been congratulating themselves that their child is not a girl and so does not cause the ex-

Charter Bus To Visit Thorne Exhibit At Galiery

Friday evening, May 13, has been reserved at the Art Gallery of Toronto, Grange Park, for the Business and Professional Women's Club of Toronto. On exhibit are the world famous Thorne Rooms in miniature. These miniature rooms, fashioned in exacting scale, show the surroundings in which the aristocracy of Europe lived over a 500-year period. This is the first time that this outstanding exhibition has been presented in Canada, and already thousands of interested people have visited the Gallery to see the display.

By going on a Friday evening, which is set aside for exclusive groups of not more than 300 people, one is assured of the opportunity of seeing everything. Mrs. Ladusca Wilson, custodian of this exhibition, will be there to explain in detail about the miniatures.

The Newmarket club is chartering a bus to attend this showing on May 13. A limited number of tickets are available for members or their friends. Particulars can be obtained by phoning 844. All members who took tickets at the last meeting must report to Mrs. Dales not later than May 10. The special Friday evening group includes a view of the Thorne Rooms, tours of the current exhibitions and refreshments.

Arts and Crafts Theme Of Home-School Meeting

Newmarket—Arts and crafts was the theme of the April 26 meeting of the Home and School Association held in the Stuart Scott school. The convener of the program was Mrs. H. R. Bennett. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Ted Mitchell. Ten-year-old Michael Murphy gave two amusing recitations. "How we tried to whip the teacher" and "Bridget's Problems".

The nominating committee presented the proposed list of officers for the coming year for the consideration of the members. The election and installation of officers will be held at the May meeting. Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards was thanked for her work in the organization of the association in this community ten years ago, and when replying, Mrs. Edwards extended her best wishes to the group for continued success.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Kate Mather who recently moved to town from British Columbia. Mrs. Mather gave an informal and pleasant talk on crafts. Particular emphasis was placed on crafts which are typically Canadian. "Each group of craft workers should pick as their trademark for their products something which will identify them with their locale," said Mrs. Mather. While on the West Coast she chose as her motif, the killer whale.

The therapeutic value of hobby work with mental patients was mentioned by the speaker. Mrs. Mather while visiting in Newmarket about two years ago, inspired the intense interest in crafts which is displayed by the women in the community today.

W.C.T.U. Protests Headlines Given Crime In Dailies

Newmarket — The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Winn with the president in the chair. Devotional service was from 2nd Chapter of Acts. The Ontario President's message was read advising that the provincial convention will be held May 31, June 1 and 2, at Kingston.

Mrs. A. Winn and Miss J. Starr attended the County of York and Peel convention held in Willard Hall, Toronto, and a report was given of the convention. The resolutions and plans of work passed at the county convention were given as follows:

1. Resolved that the headlines and publicity given to crime in our daily papers be less publicized and the reports of the good done given a more prominent place;
2. That the members of the County of York and Peel Woman's Christian Temperance Union request the provincial government to direct the department of education to amend the Education Act by adding thereto provision for "Alcohol Education" by placing an appropriate amount in the budget for this purpose and appointing a director of the department;
3. We request that the censor board of Ontario eliminate films which emphasize sex and drinking scenes and those of crime and violence;
4. Resolved that we express our disapproval of much of the salacious current literature so prevalent today as contrary to a high standard of morals;
5. We would request the Ontario Government to have the laws regarding the advertising of liquor products enforced.

Yes, forty years ago the first Heinz kitchen in Canada was installed in a five-story frame building which was found to be out of "perpendicular" and had to be partially rebuilt. The House of Heinz has grown because the world loves good eating! ... today, the Canadian friends of Heinz are numbered by the thousands and thousands! And we can be sure that in the years ahead, Heinz will continue to provide us with quality products easy on our time, energy and budgets!

Let's Admit It! We do sometimes worry about those valuables we leave in our homes when we go out for an evening—or away on a trip! I used to worry a lot until I rented my Safety Deposit Box at the BANK OF MONTREAL. Then, for a very few dollars a year, I arranged for the security of my bonds, important documents, jewelry ... in fact all of my "prized possessions"! No more fear of their being mislaid—or stolen. So when it's so easy to rid yourself of this particular worry—why not visit your nearest B of M branch soon. It's a matter of minutes only to rent your own Safety Deposit Box ... and for just a cent or two a day!

Don't Throw Away Those Faded Stockings! Here's a wonderful way to make them look as new and fresh as Spring itself! Dye them in the latest, fashion-wise shades with TINTEX STOCKING DYE! ... Tintex Gun Metal to wear with shoes of "Admiral Blue"—Tintex Bronzskin to complement shoes of bronze or "Gypsy Brown"—Tintex Black Beauty—and Smokey Haze, Misty Blue, Blush—all wonderful with the blues and blacks of this Spring's fashions! All-fabric Tintex eliminates guess-work from home dyeing ... just follow the instructions carefully for guaranteed results!

Maytime Means Blossomtime with the promise of the days ahead! Days when outdoor living grows more popular—and quick-to-make, easy dessert are popular, too! JELLO Jelly Pudders are the perfect answer to dessert problems. I find, they're so full of summertime in flavor, so satisfying and "just-right" consistency. Here's a dessert in the lower left: the Maytime made Strawberry sparkling Jello-Jelly pudding with canned peach halves, creaming each half with a big cream cheese ball. Delicious! Serve Jello-Jelly with its wonderful "lock-in" flavor often. Seven flavors—you find them so thrifty.

Showers Of Happiness for the bride-to-be ... or the sweet young graduate! And a fitting occasion for this exquisite Silver Moon Cake made extra tender, extra delicious with the best of cake flour—SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR.

3 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour	1 1/2 cups sugar
3 teaspoons Cinnamon Baking Powder	1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups butter or other shortening	6 egg whites

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together 3 times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating lightly until smooth. Add vanilla. Beat egg whites until they will hold up in moist peaks. Stir quickly but thoroughly into batter. Bake in three greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (325 deg. F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Spread a boiled frosting tinted a delicate pink between layers and over cake; decorate with a lacy border of Baker's Coconut.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

A suitable gift for Mother on her day is uppermost in our thoughts this week and yet, I wonder if we don't tend to commercialize these special celebrations too much. The gift this year could be in the form of daily assistance with small tasks about the house; in thoughtfulness of Mother's preferences; in remembered "thank you's" for the many jobs she does for every member in the family. However, here are a few suggestions for her present—flowers, perfume and extra frilly lingerie seem to be always welcome. Still, yours might be a practical household as is ours and the suitable gift would be a short handled shovel or light weight hoe so that mother won't strain herself in the garden. Don't smile—that is what someone I know is likely to receive.

Tuesday was a red letter day among the weaving enthusiasts of Newmarket for on that occasion they were lavished with praise on their achievements. Still, backing in the glory of the visiting experts' comments, the local weavers can hardly believe that their work has received so much attention. Mrs. H. Pike and Mrs. M. Armstrong, Toronto, who recently returned from a tour through old Quebec, down the Gaspé to the Maritimes and back through Maine to Ontario in search of handicrafts, spoke to a meeting of the Aurora and Newmarket weavers at the home of Mrs. M. B. Seldon. Nowhere on their trip did they see such fine work, with such careful attention to detail as is being done in our very midst. That's what the ladies said.

Weavers in British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Ontario seem to be leading in the field of weaving.

In recognition of their fine work, the local weavers have been invited to send some of their woven articles to the C.N.E. display this year. After last year's exhibition the Globe and Mail had a feature article on the work of Mrs. Pike, one of the Tuesday visitors. Mrs. Armstrong will be in charge of the booth of woven articles for sale at the C.N.E. this year.

These ladies brought with them new yarns, cottons, new ideas and new patterns which they passed along to the local group. Among their articles were some very finely woven hair bands with the arrow head weave in a complete rainbow of shades. They would bring many "ohs and ahs" from the high school crowd.

Exhibits from the local group were included in the Gift Show Trade Fair which was held at the King Edward Hotel from April 25-28. These articles are on display this week at 1114 Bay St., Toronto, from 9-4 p.m. daily. Over 4,000 attended this exhibit and the entire top floor of the hotel was given over to the show.

Mrs. Ted Mitchell has been accepted as a member of the Canadian Guild of Weavers. This organization which includes a total membership of 205 represents weavers across the entire Dominion. At present the guild has a display at Montreal. This will next be an exhibition in Victoria with the aim that new ideas, better color and texture will result in Canadian weaving. Mrs. Mitchell has articles in this exhibit.

The recent hobby show is still drawing praise from centres near and far. Not only is the quality of all the exhibits rated as exceptionally high, but comment is made on the wide range of crafts that were displayed. Not many towns of comparative size could offer anything similar to this. Congratulations to all who worked to make it such an outstanding success. Keep up the good work for Newmarket should soon be able to support its own gift shop of home crafts ... What a tourist attraction.

On the desk in front of me is a small tribute from the wee lad in the family—the first spring bouquet—"Dandy Lions" picked with hot, sticky hands and carefully stuffed into a vase. Isn't that a real Mother's Day gift?

HOME-SCHOOL REPORT

'Study Groups, More Study Groups'

Newmarket — "The pattern which the threads seemed to make was study groups," said Mrs. C. E. Wheeland in her report on the thirtieth annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Association. Mrs. Wheeland presented her report at the regular April meeting of the organization in the Stuart Scott school. The convention was held during the Easter holidays at the Royal York hotel and had as its theme: "Inspiration, Information and Fellowship."

The purpose of the conference was to promote better understanding between parents and children, not only in their relationship to each other, but also, with the teacher; to increase parents' knowledge concerning child development and wise methods of guidance; to develop an awareness of the intangibles and some understanding of what the school is endeavoring to do for the child and to eliminate blockages for the child at home.

Newmarket Home and School was among the organizations which received credit for their Home Study Committee and their study group activities.

Panel discussions were the highlights of the convention. "Living together in racial harmony" was the topic. Joseph Hill, associate editor of "Native Voice," Vancouver, the only Indian paper in Canada, gave the viewpoint of the Indian minority. Erna Keimet, graduate of the University of Estonia and teacher of modern languages, spoke on conditions concerning the displaced persons. She said that one of their greatest difficulties was that they lacked personal contacts.

Problem of Negro

Aubrey Forbes, who works with the Home Service Association, Toronto, presented the problems of the Negro in Canada. "Life in Canada is a most confusing state for the negro and little thought is given to the matter by the whites," he said. The conclusion reached from this panel discussion was that races must learn to live together to dispel fear, hatred and war.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation presented the regular broadcast of the featured program—"Kindergarten of the Air" with Dorothy Jane Goulding, from the convention.

C. E. Wilkinson, in speaking of visual aids in the schools today, stressed the need for teachers to take the summer course in visual aids. He said that the distributors had assumed the cost involved in previewing the 600 films in the organization of the Children's Film Library. This library, of which one branch has been opened in Toronto, consists of films particularly suitable for showing to children which can be obtained for presentation at local theatres.

Mental hygiene — as it concerns the high school pupil next occupied the program of the convention. Miss Elizabeth Keyes told of the work being done in this field in some co-operating secondary schools in Toronto. Human Relations is the title given to these new classes and in them the problems of the pupils are discussed and a solution sought. Specially trained people take these classes and the aim is to eliminate those problems which are interfering with the adolescent's studies and to assist him to obtain an emotional balance.

YOUNG HOPEFULS

Joyce Had Clothes Problem

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Joyce, a teenager, has learned an interesting way to solve her "nothing to wear" problem.

It isn't that Joyce hasn't clothes; it's just that she outgrows her original attachment for them long before the family budget allows her to buy new ones. Joyce is so clothes conscious that she excuses herself from many social affairs because she has "nothing to wear."

However, when her secret heart's desire invited her to the Spring Formal, she forgot she had "nothing to wear" and accepted the invitation. It was such an important occasion that she simply had to go. She couldn't afford a new dress, but her cousin had a complete outfit that fitted her perfectly; besides, the cousin lived in another town so the clothes would be new to everyone.

Joyce had in mind her cousin's pink summer formal with the long gloves, slippers and shoulder leaves of summer green. She wrote a letter asking to borrow the outfit. Disappointment ran high when Joyce received the reply: "Sorry I can't lend you the pink and green outfit. Have I lent the dress mauve and the accessories, deep purple."

Poor Joyce was scarcely able to read further: "You are perfectly welcome to the outfit in its new glory; but, if you prefer a pink and green combination, why not transform the all-white affair you wore last summer? The pink and green you admired were once white, you know, etc."

That was why and how Joyce began to experiment with tints—which have proved an interesting way to solve her "nothing to wear" problem.

Dominion Drama Festival Inspires Local Group

The last week in April saw the tenth Dominion Drama Festival held in Toronto for the first time. Capacity audiences, a variety of presentations showing professional finish and through it all the feeling of comradeship of people sharing a common interest made the week one of lingering memories for all. A new enthusiasm and a refreshed outlook on Canadian drama has permeated the thinking and plans for amateur drama leagues. To all concerned the festival was a success. It was also an encouragement to struggling new clubs; for the only award-winning group which had participated in previous years was the Ottawa Drama League.

About 16 members of the Newmarket drama club attended the performances. This week of theatre has sparked the organization with renewed vigor and plans are already underway regarding next fall's activities. Next year the festival will be held in Calgary so full advantage was taken of this season's opportunity to witness Canada's best in the field of amateur theatrics. Philip Hope-Wallace was the adjudicator.

Toronto has been leading the way with packed houses for the recent Ballet Festival as well as for this most recent venture. The hope of the Newmarket group is that some of that enthusiasm will prove contagious, resulting in larger audiences for the local presentations.

Quick Breads Always Welcome

Quick breads make a welcome addition to supper meals and tempt the most jaded appetite in the family. Johnny cake with maple syrup and muffins with honey are favorites of young and old alike.

In place of sweet, richer cakes, these baking powder or soda breads are delicious and as long as they are still fresh and soft they can be enjoyed even if not hot.

Complete Outfit Sent Indian Mission Girl

Newmarket—The Ladies' Aid held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. L. Bosworth, Davis Dr., on Monday, and the Parochial Guild met at the home of Mrs. J. Peat, Andrew St., on Tuesday evening. This week the delegates to the 63rd annual Diocesan Convention of the Women's Auxiliary are in Toronto, and will give their reports at the monthly devotional and business meeting held next Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Parish Hall.

Last Thursday they held their last weekly meeting of the season, when Mrs. S. Third, Dorcas secretary, and her helpers had the completed outfit for their Indian girl at an Anglican mission school on display, later packing and shipping it to headquarters in Toronto. When the work was completed the members and their guests sat down to a pot-luck supper which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone there. The Evening Branch were their guests, and the Senior Branch is invited to their next monthly meeting when the Rectory is to give an address.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

WE LIVE AND LEARN

I journeyed on Friday morning in company with Mrs. E. Walton, Mrs. E. Evans, Mrs. L. Bovair and Mrs. R. R. McMath to Richmond Hill United church to attend the spring rally of the Toronto Centre Presbyterian. To that beautiful church we were warmly welcomed by Mrs. J. T. Taylor, president, Richmond Hill W.M.S., and took our place with the other 250 women who had assembled there to listen, discuss and learn.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Fear, president of the Centre Presbyterian, who welcomed us and stressed the importance of W.M.S. work. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Jenkinson. She took Nehemiah's building of the wall about Jerusalem as her text and found in his determination faith and thanksgiving for God's help, a prototype of what our work should be. Our work will soon show whether it be for God or for self. W.M.S. has a world-wide vision and mission—are we living up to the greatness of our task?

Mrs. Taylor brought greetings from Richmond Hill. "Our supply work" was the subject of Mrs. Collo's talk. She spoke of the contrast between the way garments were once brought in for baling and the immaculate condition of present contributions. If we take "Inasmuch" for our motto, our giving will be an outpouring of love. W.M.S. supply fills a definite need and so many things are needed. Pretty quilts make hospital beds gay and children's clothes are always needed.

Mrs. Dobson then sang very charmingly "Alleluia". Mrs. D. McLeod spoke on "Formosa". She said that life can never be the same after seeing Oriental sheep without a shepherd. Missionary life in spite of difficulties is one of wonderful joy and living it, life takes on new values. The island was for 50 years Japanese governed, but peopled by Chinese and with the Christians of each race, fellowship of faith transcended race. The children want education and all schools are overcrowded. The youth are looking for something beyond the old religions. Formosa has 60,000 Christians.

Miss Bondi, who took Miss MacKenzie's place, spoke of the book of the year, "Growing with the Years", and led discussions on various subjects connected with missions. Mrs. Ayres sang a delightful solo, then Mrs. R. G. Struthers spoke on "China of today". We are all fearful of the sweep of Communism, she said, and should go forward with humility for we do not live up to our profession and with confidence because Christianity must prevail. Communism was ready with a program for re-building but it does not include Christianity and many leaders had paid the supreme sacrifice.

Communism challenges Christianity—surely the church will not refuse the challenge. Watch for open doors in China for some will be open and man's extremity is God's opportunity. Mrs. Fear then thanked all who had contributed to the success of the meeting and we scattered to our homes.

The Bell Singers

Is there one of us, in this world made queer by us, who has not dreamed of some perfect thing, but after all, it was only a dream? However, that may be when the 50-50 club brought the Bell singers to Newmarket they brought something unique—perfect—of its kind.

When Dr. Bell waved his hand, we were transported into a world of music from which we only emerged when Dr. Bell's hand dropped for the last time and we came reluctantly back to realities. One thing that struck Archie and me was the almost statuesque pose of the singers—no fidgeting—unnecessary motions to distract their listeners. In the opening part of the program the choir members were a symphony in red and white—pleasing to the eye, but when the singing began one forgot everything but what Dr. Bell's unusual conducting was drawing from his singers. The uninterrupted flow of pure tone, perfectly balanced, the perfect balance and timing, the ethereal quality of the sopranos on high notes and the rich resonance of the low voices kept one enchanted.

I think the "Sanctus" of Palestrina held for me, everything that this style of music could hold, and their church Latin was perfect, as was also their French in "Chaire de Lune". For their folk songs they wore gay skirts with white waists and necklaces. In these songs they sang with the true folk spirit—joyous or sad, and showed us how rich the nations are in music.

It's a photo finish in the Monday Night Ladies' league. Duds and Owls, front runners, are one point apart. They'll settle the championship next Monday. Here's the standing: Duds 65, Owls 64, Nitwits and Shmoos tied at 61, and down the ladder Humbugs and Blanks at 48 each. Edna McGrath was top scorer this week with 628 (147-239-242). That was the only 600 score. Down in the 500 circle Claire Pollock rolled 594. Other scores in the running were Hester Clark 581, Floss Campbell 580, Audrey Benton 557, Kitty Ruddock 555, Elsie Cline 548, Ella Wilkins 543, Bea Daly 531, Mimi Giovannelli 528.

Office Specialty Ladies' league rang up its final scores of the season last Thursday. Frances Luteby topped the parade with a nice 628 mark on games of 139, 220 and 267. The Vandenbergals, Joyce and Doris, made it interesting, the former marking up 610 (261-177-181), and the latter capturing third on 248, 132 and 233. Laura Whitfield's union wound up with the championship, second Joyce Smith's and third Eva Whitfield's combination. The ladies write finish to their league a week from tonight with a banquet.

Edna McGrath was front runner in the Thursday Night Ladies' League scoring last week with a 633 mark. Hazel Bennett was second with 594 followed by Beryl Reinke 575, Betty VanZant 570, Bessie Wench 540, Myrt Dun 535, Helen Tomlinson 523, Mary Henderson 514.

If there is such an article as an industrial bowling diadem it can be dusted off and handed to Andy Cullen's Davis Leather clan. After taking the Office Specialty winners apart in a recent go the Tanners stepped heavily on the toes of the Hoffman champs last Friday night at Ernie Bennett's North End Alleys. The Tanners ripped the Hoffman banner apart to rack up a sizeable margin of 1 m o s t 400 pins.

Down The Centre

By T. A. M. (AB.) HULSE

If you missed us last week, it's because we thought editor John had sufficient copy on hand, and what John thought only he knows. From the previous copy, we want to make sure that you know that Laurie Thoms was voted the most valuable player for '49 by his Meteors teammates. Thoms, rookie center, was the team's leading scorer. In winning the O.H.A. award he joins Billy Mundell and Eric Smith who in their years were outstanding performers for Aurora juniors.

An interesting hockey announcement may be made shortly with the chances are that Aurora juniors will be of B calibre next season. Many of the '49 juniors will receive A try-outs next winter. Ted Downer, Weston, the big star of this winter's group, is scheduled to play for Barrie next winter having signed a contract with Eddie Shore according to all reports.

Everybody is pulling for a speedy recovery for Pete Crystale, one of the better all-round athletes of a few years ago at Aurora high. Young Crystale, who has been employed at Quomont Mines at Larder Lake, was seriously injured in a landslide at the mine on the weekend. Present indications are that amputations, once feared, will not be necessary but a series of difficult operations will be.

Despite reports you have heard about softball Fred Morris, voluble Langstaff impresario, at the weekend was undecided whether or not his boys would play in the North Yonge circuit or not. "Never heard a word of a meeting, or the plans," sez Morris. "I've got a great club lined up headed by Billy Bowen on the mound, those fellows up north better act quick or we'll be playing in the Markham league. They've got seven clubs already and we would make the eighth. The only thing about it is the other seven figure we're too strong for them, but they know we'll draw the crowds and wouldn't pass us up." Sutton, a softball opposition? "Too far, too far," quoth Frederick. "Fancy our boys trying to reach the northern town on the weekend. Nothing I'd like better than to try conclusions with that Newmarket crowd. It's the only thing makes my want to get back in the league again. They'd better get their ambassadors out pronto, however, as we can't wait too long for a decision." Take it away Messrs. May, Rogers, Haskett and Co.

Doug Smith, former Aurora resident, was elected first vice president of the Ontario Softball Association last week and will take over next year for sure. Canadian Legion bowling finals at Kitchener saw team honors go to Guelph, London annex the doubles and Chatham the singles. Woodbridge represented the district and made a fine showing. In all some 30 winners from Colubourg to Chatham were in action, and you can multiply the number of teams who competed over the season in Legion bowling by five. Add to that the separate championships decided in the north and the far eastern part of the province and you can see the scope of the activities. If you haven't heard Doug Moore, the Aurora junior notminder, play boogie-wogie you've missed a treat. The lad is hot stuff at the Stenway. Right now he's casting longing eyes at the far north, where he spent last summer.

Son Rowntree, who has been a whiz with Woodbridge the past few years, will likely as not don a Minnie sweater for the season. Edna James will of course again be one of the main cogs in the Mountaineers' machinery. Lloyd Birle and Jack Wilson, two of the outstanding performers with North Peel in the local boxla group, are located in Peterborough this year and will play senior B in the Littleton City. Most of Aurora Meteor juniors are keen to try their hand at teen-age lacrosse this summer. We hope the Aurora recreation commission will give the matter a bit of thinking before saying "no".

Lake Simcoe Loop Sees Banner Year

If the enthusiasm displayed by the delegates at their annual meeting held at the Sharon Hall on Friday evening is any criterion the Simcoe league is in for another banner year. It will be a ten-team league as last year. Nine teams, Vancor, Pine Orchard, Sharon, Hope, Mount Albert, Queensville, Brownhill, Keswick, Willow Beach, were represented. A tenth, Zephyr, sent along word they would be back again. Archie Dike, treasurer, brought down his report showing the league closed with $250 and a further return is due from the Keswick club.

The election of officers followed with Ross Chapman (Queensville), earning the nod to head the slate for a second term. Murray Roberts (Mount Albert), was chosen first vice-president. Fred McLeod (Sharon), second vice-president. Horace Pearson was again named to the post of secretary, a position that the hard working Mount Albert chap has handled capably these past 15 years. Archie Dike (Hope), was returned as treasurer for another session. Claude Pollock (Keswick) was named league publicity director.

The league rules were given the once over and all stood the test although a proposal was put forth before the delegates to increase the distance from five to six miles from which players could be drawn, was defeated.

Quality Vs. Quantity 'Justice Prevails'

The Newmarket V.L.A. bowling team "bowed over" larger and more experienced teams of its district office and the Toronto regional office, both in the city, to take the Such Trophy, donated for annual competition for high score—12 bowlers, two games. Tonight the Newmarket bowlers will receive the Such Trophy at a bowling banquet and dance in Toronto.

The V.L.A. bowlers in Newmarket had been invited by the Toronto offices to compete for the trophy, and they accepted though suffering from injuries because their high scorer was on honeymoon. "These are not all-bis," we are assured, but in addition, they were invading Toronto alleys, had a long trip down after a day's hard work in the busy season at the office. On top of that the staff of 15 out of which were pickled bowlers, was competing against 100 in the city. "We think quality comes in smaller parcels," said a V.L.A. spokesman last week.

When asked the answer to this supremacy, V.L.A. said, "It must be that we live right and justice will usually prevail. We are very proud and happy. It is like winning the Stanley Cup." The trophy will be suitably displayed at the offices, 14 Millard Ave.

V.L.A. bowlers were E. R. Donaldson, Art Lloyd, Tommy Sadeski, Neil McDonald, Vic O'Malley, Lew Tompkins, Anne Maleish, Pearl Madryga, Joan Fairley and Arlene McTavish.

Two Leagues Planned For North York Baseball

North York Baseball League will have three representatives to throw into the Ontario Baseball Association play downs when August rolls around. The league will operate a five-team bantam series with teams from Markham, Stouffville, Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket.

In the juvenile A and B divisions, Aurora and Stouffville are in, while Newmarket pending the decision of the local Lions club, will probably round out that section. Markham will carry the intermediate banner. The juvenile and intermediate sections will operate as a four-team circuit. Plans along these lines were set in motion at a league assembly in Newmarket Monday.

President Len Simmonds carries on as head of the juvenile and intermediate division. Grant Nighswander of Richmond Hill will convene the bantam series. The latter class is due for completion before schools close for the summer vacation period. Games in the juvenile-intermediate loop open towards the end of the month running through until early August.

Willis-Davis Combo Takes Birdie Crown

That unfinished business of declaring a mixed doubles winner in the open tournament of the North York badminton league was settled once and for all Friday evening. Time did not allow this portion of the tournament to be completed last Saturday evening. When the final reckoning was taken Connie Willis and Keith Davis were champions, defeating Ruth Corner and Keith Nisbet 17-15, 9-15, 18-16.

It was a particularly hard-fought set requiring three games, the first and third see-sawing back and forth before the Willis-Davis combine snared the winning point with some fine rallies and net work.

The bird-busters have just about written finish to a most successful season. Every indication points to Bradford and Pickering College racquet wielders making an entry in the league next season.

Plan Glider Air Show At Buttonville May 14

The Toronto Gliding club will sponsor a Glider Air Show, something new and different from air shows that have been seen in the Toronto district, at Gillies Airport, Buttonville, Saturday, May 14, at 2:30 p.m.

Featuring all motorless flight, there will be team aerobatics in sailplanes, formation parachute jump, ground launching by winch and auto pulley, 30 seconds to 1,000 feet, spot landings and bombing runs, comedy "kitchen chair with wings" and solo air-plane aerobatics.

A sailplane in tow might be over Newmarket the same afternoon. In Canada there are about 500 gliding amateurs. The Toronto club was founded in the spring of 1947.

Scouts, Trail Rangers Have Boxing Matches

Last Thursday a boxing match was held in the Scouts' headquarters between the local Scouts and Trail Rangers. The bouts were five one-minute rounds with Doug Speir acting as referee. The line up was: Cockburn vs. Lane, Riddell vs. George, Keffer vs. Bray, Keffer vs. Pollard.

The winners were Lane, Riddell, Bray and Pollard. These lads showed plenty of promise and it is hoped in the future to line up a real match.

NEW SCHOOL

The design of the classrooms is still, of course, the main feature of the school. One wall consists chiefly of window, protected by overhanging eaves. A door in this wall leads directly to the outside, and should prove useful for nature instruction or as an emergency exit in case of fire.

From the outside wall an acoustically-treated ceiling slopes upwards to an inner wall against the corridor, and as the roof of the corridors is kept low, it permits windows in the classrooms in the upper part of the wall, giving what is known as bilateral lighting to each room.

Each classroom contains wardrobe accommodation with the used air being exhausted through the garments hanging there, ensuring dry clothing for the pupils, as well as ventilation for the rooms, each room being individually controlled. Each classroom, in addition, contains teacher's coat and store cupboard, also a sink with cupboards at the rear of the room, forming a project centre.

Each room varies in color—these colors being kept light and bright in keeping with the airy rooms. The chalk boards are all green glass with a harmonizing paler green on the walls surrounding them. Each room has a pin-up board and book-cases for the class' library. The floors and bases in the corridors and wash rooms are of terrazzo, and in class rooms, teachers' rooms, etc., are of linoleum.

The wash rooms contain an adequate number of toilet fixtures and wash basins, with low partitions of grey marble dividing the stalls. These rooms are well ventilated, both naturally and mechanically. Two very large porches are provided at the entrances, these will be used as play areas by the pupils in inclement weather.

The tops of the chimney and ventilating shaft will be decorated with carved child's figure. The heating of the school is done by a low pressure steam system with the supply of heat to the classrooms thermostatically controlled. The ventilation of these rooms is the exhaust type through the ward-ropes, and individually controlled.

The materials used in the construction have been chosen to do adequately the job intended for them, and to withstand the hard wear they will receive from the hands of more than 200 active boys and girls, and at the same time produce a building that has an attractive appearance, both inside and out. Economical construction is the keynote of the design, and no space has been provided that will not be in constant use.

The building will be erected on a site 55' x 350' and placed to give maximum play space.

GIVE VETS

expenses, Mr. May said the Veterans' Association would set up the necessary seven-man committee to apply for it.

Reeve Arthur Evans said, "I can recall the days when there were football games, lacrosse, sprinters and many other athletes using the grounds all at once and there is no reason why the popularity of the grounds should not return to the community."

The mayor said that the council must consider the possible revenue from the drill hall but that he thought that if the project were successful, the association would be putting pressure on future councils to take it over also. At present, the building is occupied by the Ontario Truck Body Co.

Councillor Paynter said that the property as it has been standing, has been of no use. "I think it is a very worthy project and every member of council should agree to it," he said.

News n' Views

By GEORGE HASKETT

Newmarket Veterans' Memorial Park. How does that strike you? The Vets' Association has petitioned for a lease on the fair grounds. They'll bring that all but forgotten field into shape for softball and baseball—in fact turn it into a sports centre. Floodlights and bleachers are due for attention and a park worthy of its high sounding insignia will be brought into being. Spokesman and Vets' president, Doug May, sketched the offer to the town fathers Monday. The Vets propose to take over up yonder for a ten-year period and the council went along with the suggestion. Only cause for concern, and a slight one, is location of the new public school destined for Srigley St. General opinion was plans along that avenue wouldn't interfere with the Vets' scheme of things. Sold? Does sound a bit of alright, mates. Can't deny East Side needs a sports field. It was obvious last summer when the minor softball program was in full swing. There weren't enough diamonds to go around. Shoulder shovels, rakes and away we go.

Lacrosse practices moved into the rink. Two to date. Good attendance. Last year's runners have all reported. If Bradford and Aurora fail to swing in with intermediate entries coach Matt Walsh is likely to pick up further strength. Let's see "Mutt" Collings and Ernie James up north, Patrick boys, Stew and Howard, from Aurora. The schedule goes early in June. Team drill tonight (Thursday). Larger local display needed to bolster Harold Gwyn, Hal Andrews, Ed O'Halloran, Fred Casa, Ken Groves and Bob Benville.

Intermediate baseball does another fade out? Scales tilt in that direction. Why, your scribbler can't understand. Looming large seems to be lack of coaching and managing personnel and mayhap financing. Cracker jack ball-hawks for a strong side are at the door step. Had a thought, if it would do any good, of sending up a trial balloon but early season drills last year brought out only seven or eight. If the interest isn't there in May or June what are you going to do when August rolls around?

Bantam ball under the North York league banner has a rosier complexion. Five team circuit is in the making with Markham, Stouffville, Richmond Hill, Aurora and Newmarket. Frank Hollingsworth carries the coaching burden locally. A pleasing note too, from an "old timer" as Ted Robinson goes on record as ready to lend a helping hand with the young sprouts in the pitching and coaching departments. Ted can do this, too, and would be a welcome addition here.

Lake Simcoe softball has ten teams. Well attended and enthusiastic delegation from all points with the exception of Zephyr at the annual Friday. Rules stay put. President Ross Chapman rode back in by popular demand for a repeat term. Schedule and players lists being scrutinized May 16.

Purse string department: Congratulations to our neighbors. Aurora townstolk voted 3-1 in favor of installing artificial ice and making extensive repairs to their arena. A move they'll not regret. It's bound to develop winter activity in the community. A pat on the back to those fourth estaters Ab Hulse and Bill Foote for some fast publicity on the subject.

Stouffville under the direction of the Athletic Association have reached their objective of 50,000 smackers. Artificial ice is assured there, too. Their association appears to be functioning on all cylinders. During the past two years have ticketed artificial ice, augmented their playing fields with a new softball diamond and erected bleachers at the baseball park. And enough of this. Opening ball game to be observed. See you at the Maple Leaf Stadium. Root, root for the home team, if they don't win it's a shame.

"Minstrel Days are here again. The Lions Club will entertain..."

The cast of the Lions club Minstrel show has been rehearsing the last four or five weeks for the show which will have been presented three nights when this appears. And it will have been received enthusiastically by the audience, we are sure, even though we confess to the bias to be expected from a member of the chorus and one-fifth of a novelty act. But while we are unable to add to the testimony of eyes and ears of the audience, we can record some of the events which have made the rehearsals a thoroughly enjoyable occasion for all the hard work of putting such a show together. But first, a word on its history. The Minstrel Show is not a new undertaking with the Lions. They had one some years ago. The latest performance had been talked about for some time before anything was done. Then that minstrel man, Alex. Eves, got together a script and chose some songs, called for volunteers and rehearsals began.

For the first couple of weeks or so, preparations were almost casual as the chorus learned the words and tunes, the soloists familiarized themselves with their parts, and the end men became dialect-conscious. Then with the show dates coming closer and the orchestra under Bill Grieg sitting in on the rehearsals, the show began to take shape. Rehearsals became bi-weekly, then tri-weekly, then every night. Bill Grieg began to perfect the timing and diction of the singers, and the precision of the orchestra. There was less horse-play and more concentration. Sunday afternoon, we picked up our wigs and costumes and ran through the show. Monday was dress rehearsal, final revisions, checks and double-checks. Tuesday night away we went on a four-day run and with two additional bookings, at Horning's Mill and Schomberg, and the prospect of others.

For Mr. Interlocutor, his end-men, soloists and orchestra, a minstrel show is hard work, but for the drones in the chorus, with nothing to do but sing (something they like anyway) and enjoy the show, it has been a lot of fun. And a minstrel show with its flexibility lends itself to all sorts of innovations and last minute changes so that chorus has had a very happy time of it, plugging Alex. Eves with last-minute suggestions and innovations.

None of us have had a chance to see what is forecast as the hit of the show—the antics of one, Angus West, who has what can be loosely described as a roving assignment. Alex. gave us a rough outline of what to expect from Ang—he would be wearing a red wig for one thing. But as late as Monday, none of us had seen him in action and were full of anticipation. We're prepared to bet that he will indeed be all of what is forecast for him—the hit of the show.

Most encouraging of all was the announcement that the show would be a sell-out and that it would be presented on Friday night too to accommodate the crowd. But now, with Tuesday upon us, rehearsals ended, a stock of cough drops, water pistols and pea shooters laid in, its on with the show.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Work has been started on the new tennis courts to the east of the bowling green, according to the files of 25 years ago, and it is expected that the courts will be ready for use in about two weeks.

Mr. George Winterstein and Laura, Zephyr, returned from the west on Monday, where they have been visiting Dr. and Mrs. Henderson for the past ten months.

Harry Keith, son of the local member of parliament, has passed his examinations for B.A. and received his degree at Convocation in Toronto on Thursday.

Dr. John S. Lundy, Seattle, Wash., an anaesthesia expert, has been appointed head of a new department in the Mayo Clinic, Rochester. Dr. Lundy is the son of Fred Lundy and grandson of the late Silas Lundy, at one time deputy-reeve of Newmarket.

About 140 members of Tuscan Lodge and their wives attended the annual ladies' night on Friday. A cuche and dance followed the dinner. Worshipful Master W. J. Patterson was in charge of arrangements for the evening.

While cranking his car on Sunday, Harry Broadway, Sutton West, broke his right arm in two places besides badly splintering it.

Misses Mary Crawford and Ruth Steeper, Toronto, were guests of Mrs. R. J. Gould and Miss Georgia Gould over the weekend.

About 11.30 Sunday night some of the Newmarket firemen received a call from Holland Landing asking for assistance. A house belonging to Mr. Menzie, Toronto, was entirely destroyed, but several nearby residences were saved. Bradford firemen were also in attendance.

Wm. Hillaby, Queensville, left for Sudbury on Sunday, where he has accepted a position.

Good crowd in town last Saturday and trade was brisk, according to the files of 50 years ago. Prices of farm produce were a little lower. Butter sold from 11 to 13 cents, mostly at 12 cents. Eggs were firm at 10 cents a doz. Dressed chickens sold at 55 cents a pr., potatoes from 65 to 80 cents a bag. Green onions and lettuce was 5 cents a bunch.

The excavating for the new three-storey addition to Cane's factory is completed and the masons started work on the foundation on Tuesday morning.

Chas. McCutley is back in town after spending a couple of years in Schomberg and is going to take charge of Dr. Denny's grocery.

Mr. Steckley has disposed of his oil business to a man on Yonge St. and left on Tuesday for Winnipeg, accompanied by his son, Tom.

The old stable on the parsonage premises north of the Christian church is to be removed and a new stable erected in its place.

Chas. Montgomery and his mother left for Syracuse, N.Y., on Tuesday to visit his brother, T. H. Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery expects to remain about a month and Charlie is going on to New York.

Jas. Squires is erecting a pump factory at the north end, two storeys high, and intends to go into manufacturing as soon as the machinery can be placed in position. The second storey will be used as a paint shop.

A heavy thunderstorm accompanied by a high wind passed over town on Monday, doing considerable damage. Several panes of glass were shattered, fences destroyed and chimneys blown off.

1949 Town Budget

The budget brought before council Monday night suggests that there has been no change in the policy of providing for minimum requirements instead of maximum accomplishment. It is true that in ten of 14 major items on the budget, there have been increased allowances but these allowances for the most part appear to cover necessities like increases in pay and heavier expenditures as a result of growth.

We may be wrong in this. There may be provision in the budget for expenditures on projects which may develop over the year, involving sums too small to debenture for but large enough to be excluded from the normal expenditures. If there is such provision—fine. Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette's committee will have done a good job. If, however, there is no such allowance, if Newmarket is to suffer another year from lack of ready funds for municipal improvement, the finance committee will have failed completely to understand the desire of the public and the wants of the town.

There has been a strong insistence by a good many taxpayers that the mill-rate be maintained at last year's level despite the increase in assessments. If this had been done, it would have meant an increase of $10,000 to the treasury. Those who believed this should be done were willing to pay the extra levy in return for improvements in sidewalks, municipal buildings and other expenditures of similar nature. They recognized that it is their money which, in the end, pays these costs, and they were willing to accept the charges now. Then too, these favoring the same mill-rate have as their argument the prosperity of the times. People are generally better able to pay a heavier tax now than they would be when times are less prosperous.

In reply, the mayor and deputy-reeve say that major expenditures such as those on sidewalks and bridges will be debentured for. Reeve Arthur D. Evans has been trying to have the road and sidewalk improvements undertaken by debenture for two years but he has been hampered by delays and postponements. Debenturing for major expenditures is reasonable but to be effective, council must show a little more willingness to act.

The preparation of a budget is a difficult task, further complicated this year by the delay caused by the assessments dispute. It involves planning a total expenditure of $225,717. If the budget provides adequate allowances for the various departments of the municipal government with provision for the unforeseen expenditures, and is supplemented by debentures for improvement of municipal services, the budget makers will be most successful. If however, the budget provides only for absolute minimum requirements, if there is no provision for a "buffer" to meet the unforeseen, and if the assurances of debenturing for heavy costs are forgotten, the budget will represent a dismal failure to meet the town's requirements.

N.H.S. Wing Proposal Revived

The Newmarket and Sutton District high school board has resumed talks with the provincial department of education on the construction of a new wing for the Newmarket high school so that home economics, vocational and agricultural teaching may be given there in equality with the present academic and commercial courses.

The proposal is not new. Some years ago it was placed before the voters who rejected it. There were not, at that time however, the extensive education grants from the province which in this instance, will absorb as much as 75 percent of the cost. Three years ago, the Newmarket high school board, encouraged by the promise of these grants and the pressing need for more accommodation at the school, went as far as receiving the department approval of plans for a new wing after bucking various delays including that caused by materials shortage.

However, coincidental with their proposals, the department urged the establishment of a high school area for the Newmarket high school and the board was asked to wait until this was done since it was anticipated that the area would make heavier demands upon the school. With the area now established, the board has tackled the project again with some advantage over previous attempts in that the cost of building material has fallen.

There are two reasons for the new wing. The first is accommodation. The second is the increasing demand for a school which can educate secondary school students in all branches of education, agriculture, vocational training (shopwork), commercial and academic.

Only about ten percent of secondary school students require academic education. The commercial department at present absorbs some of the remaining 90 percent, but the rest are prevented from having a full education by the lack of shop work or home economics teaching. These two reasons are sufficient to justify the erection of a new wing. Encouraging to the proposal too is the fact that of the estimated cost of $100,000, as high as $75,000 will be paid by the province, leaving only $25,000 to be raised by the area.

The Drew Mr. O'Leary Knows

We have been chuckling over a copy of the pamphlet, "The George Drew I Know" by Grattan O'Leary, associate editor of the Ottawa Journal. Mr. O'Leary has written brilliantly of the Conservative party leader with choice phrasing and flattering adjectives. Lacking only is an adherence to the record. For example, he writes on page four that Mr. Drew "is a leader who knows his mind".

This is very inconsistent with Mr. Drew's acknowledged tendency to reverse his field if it appears expedient. Mr. Drew's reaction to the Family Allowance Act is a case in point. When premier of Ontario, Mr. Drew took violent exception to the act, labelling it with such statesmanlike utterances as "iniquitous". He also claimed Ontario would be forced to pay a major share of the cost, a remark which was bitterly resented in the west where it was pointed out that Ontario's share was being paid in part with western money which had found its way to coffers of Ontario head offices.

In any event, Mr. Drew, knowing his own mind as well as he does, told Newfoundland on his visit there that neither he, nor any other Conservative of importance, had ever spoken against the Family Allowance Act. Mr. O'Leary writes that Mr. Drew "will give us honesty; straight talk instead of double talk". Mr. O'Leary, just how well do you know Mr. Drew?

New Public School

Elsewhere in this issue are shown the plans for the new public school and a description of its construction. Modern in every way, providing for the children who will use it every conceivable comfort and facility for education, and designed with an economy of space which provides the maximum use at minimum cost, the building will be a credit to Newmarket. The public school board is to be congratulated for its effort.

The new school is being built to meet a very insistent need for more school accommodation and in anticipation of the replacement of the 60-year-old Alexander Muir school. Newmarket has grown rapidly in the past few years. There is no surer measure of its growth than that of the school population which has jammed the existing three public schools and caused the cancellation of special classes and raised the entry age.

According to figures on birth-rate and the pre-school population, the six class-rooms will be filled within a short time of the school's construction, and there is now facing the board the possibility of extending the Stuart Scott school as the school population grows with the development of the south-west side of town. In preparing their figures, the board provided for the population shift caused by the Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation development, although it could not anticipate Mr. Stanley Miller's announcement that he plans to build, or the growing popularity of building sites in that area.

So while the new school provides accommodation for the north-east corner of town, there will likely be within a short time demand for increased accommodation across town. There is nothing that can be done about it: it is the penalty of growth.

Should Be Warning

During the winter months, following a collision of a car with a train at the Davis Dr. crossing, we urged that the by-law prohibiting the blowing of train whistles at night be rescinded. The advent of daylight saving time makes such an action even more imperative. The morning restriction on whistle blowing ends at six o'clock, standard time. With the trains running on standard time, that means no whistle blowing in town until 7 a.m.

With a morning train coming in from the north a few minutes before 7 a.m. town time, when Davis and Specialty workers are crossing the tracks in large numbers, warning whistles should be blown. There is no choice between bedtime comfort and a safety precaution. The by-law should be rescinded and trains allowed to whistle the warning of their approach.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

This is the story of Horsa the horse fly.

I saw in an advert about some petroleum products that a horse fly could fly 500 miles per hour so immediately I set out to find a horse fly. One does not see so many horse flies at this time of the year so I went down to the city and ferreted out my old friend, Doc Thorax, Ph.D., the entomologist. An entomologist is a student of insects.

"Listen Doc," I said, "have you any horse flies and their addresses on your files which I might interview?"

"Ah yes," says the Doc, "we have one on our files named Horsa who lives in the Fairley Lake district. He has a very interesting case of fallen arches if I remember correctly."

On looking up Horsa the horse fly I found him practising down wind take-offs on the old dry lake bed. He would always crack up in a ground loop and get his face buried in the sand. He greeted me as one "hail-fellow-well-met."

"I am Horsa the horse fly," he said. "I find that life is just one big laugh. I was named after a British military glider of World War II vintage and I have fallen metatarsal arches."

"And what caused your flat-footedness?" I asked.

"I used to be a bar fly and ruined my arches from spending hours standing on a brass rail. So I decided to be a horse fly. Did you ever see a horse—fly? Haw!"

"Is it true that you can fly at 500 miles per hour?" I asked.

"Yes," he said, "with a good tail wind behind me I am sonic. Scientists have clocked me at well over 600 in a straight dive. I did test dives last year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and burned off my wing tips. It took six months for me to grow them back on again."

"A few weeks ago I saw a delataviland Vampire Mark III jet plane with Goblin power plant poking along at 525 so I did a wing-over and pulled along side to have a conversational shout at the pilot. To my amazement the pilot was George Drew out taking a test flip, trying to prove to himself and the Liberal party that the craft was better than the F86 Sabre. He has been taking a deep interest in aeronautics lately, you know."

"What did Mr. Drew say?" I asked of Horsa.

"He said that the future of Canada depends on our aircraft contracts. He said that if we did not buy the right kinds of airplanes that it would result in chaos and probably the communists would overrun the country besides other hateful things."

I left Horsa muttering to himself and went back to the office to write a character sketch on him. Later, on Monday afternoon, Horsa came up to the office and bought a year's subscription.

"Life is one big laugh for me," he said to the office girl, then went out the door. I watched him rev up for a super-sonic take-off.

Don't take life too seriously," he said as he took off from the front step. "You will never get out of it alive anyway," and with his head still turned around backwards at me, he flew 500 m.p.h. splat against Jack Fraser's plate glass window.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

"Margarine ban appeal unworthy of farmers," writes a financial editor of one of our daily papers. He says the arguments of the Federation of Agriculture for a protected butter market are not convincing. The sale of margarine will cut into the farm income and that is not desired. He says that the farmer must be prosperous for the well being of our nation. Because industries are protected by tariffs, the same should not be for butter: every effort to remove tariff barriers should be made and open the gates to free competition. This, the farmer would welcome.

The dairy industry should act on constructive lines and reduce butter costs, he says, but he does not tell how this is to be done. He thinks the farmer could get some other source of income, and last of all, he has the same old come-on: "The farmer is the back bone of the country, the farmer must be prosperous if the country as a whole is to be prosperous."

There is only one point in his article: the farmer has not had a supply of butter in the past to meet the demand.

In farm produce costs, the wages of the farmers are below 50 cents per hour. How this low figure is arrived at, we do not know. Can the cost of butter be reduced to compete with margarine? Our cows are fed to get a large production from them. There may be some farmers that could buy higher producing cows and feed better. On our tractors, binders, ploughs, etc., the price is set and protected by a tariff—no chance to reduce on what the farmer has to buy. In the past, the farmer in the fall, if he had money enough to meet his expenses, thought he had done well that year. If there was not enough money to meet expenses, he sold off some of his stock.

Now, since the last war, the government has been after the people to make out income tax returns. This income tax makes the farmer sore but it is the best thing that ever happened to the farmer. The farmer has to keep farm accounts.

When we farmers take a pencil and try to get our costs, no wonder we are getting sore. There are 30 percent more farm radio forums this year than last, and my guess is that the increase in farm forums is because the farmer when he keeps accounts finds how foolish he has been. He goes out and joins a forum to see what he can do. The more the farmer figures, the madder he gets.

There is one way to reduce the cost of butter. The farmer's wage will have to be cut from 50 cents per hour to, say, 20 cents per hour. If the farmer producing whole milk were to give the milk free, it would still cost the consumer 10 cents per quart at their door. What we don't know won't hurt us! We could take the paper and pencil away from the farmer and make it a crime for him to figure. As long as the farmer has to keep accounts to fill out income taxes we will not go back to a low food cost policy of the past.

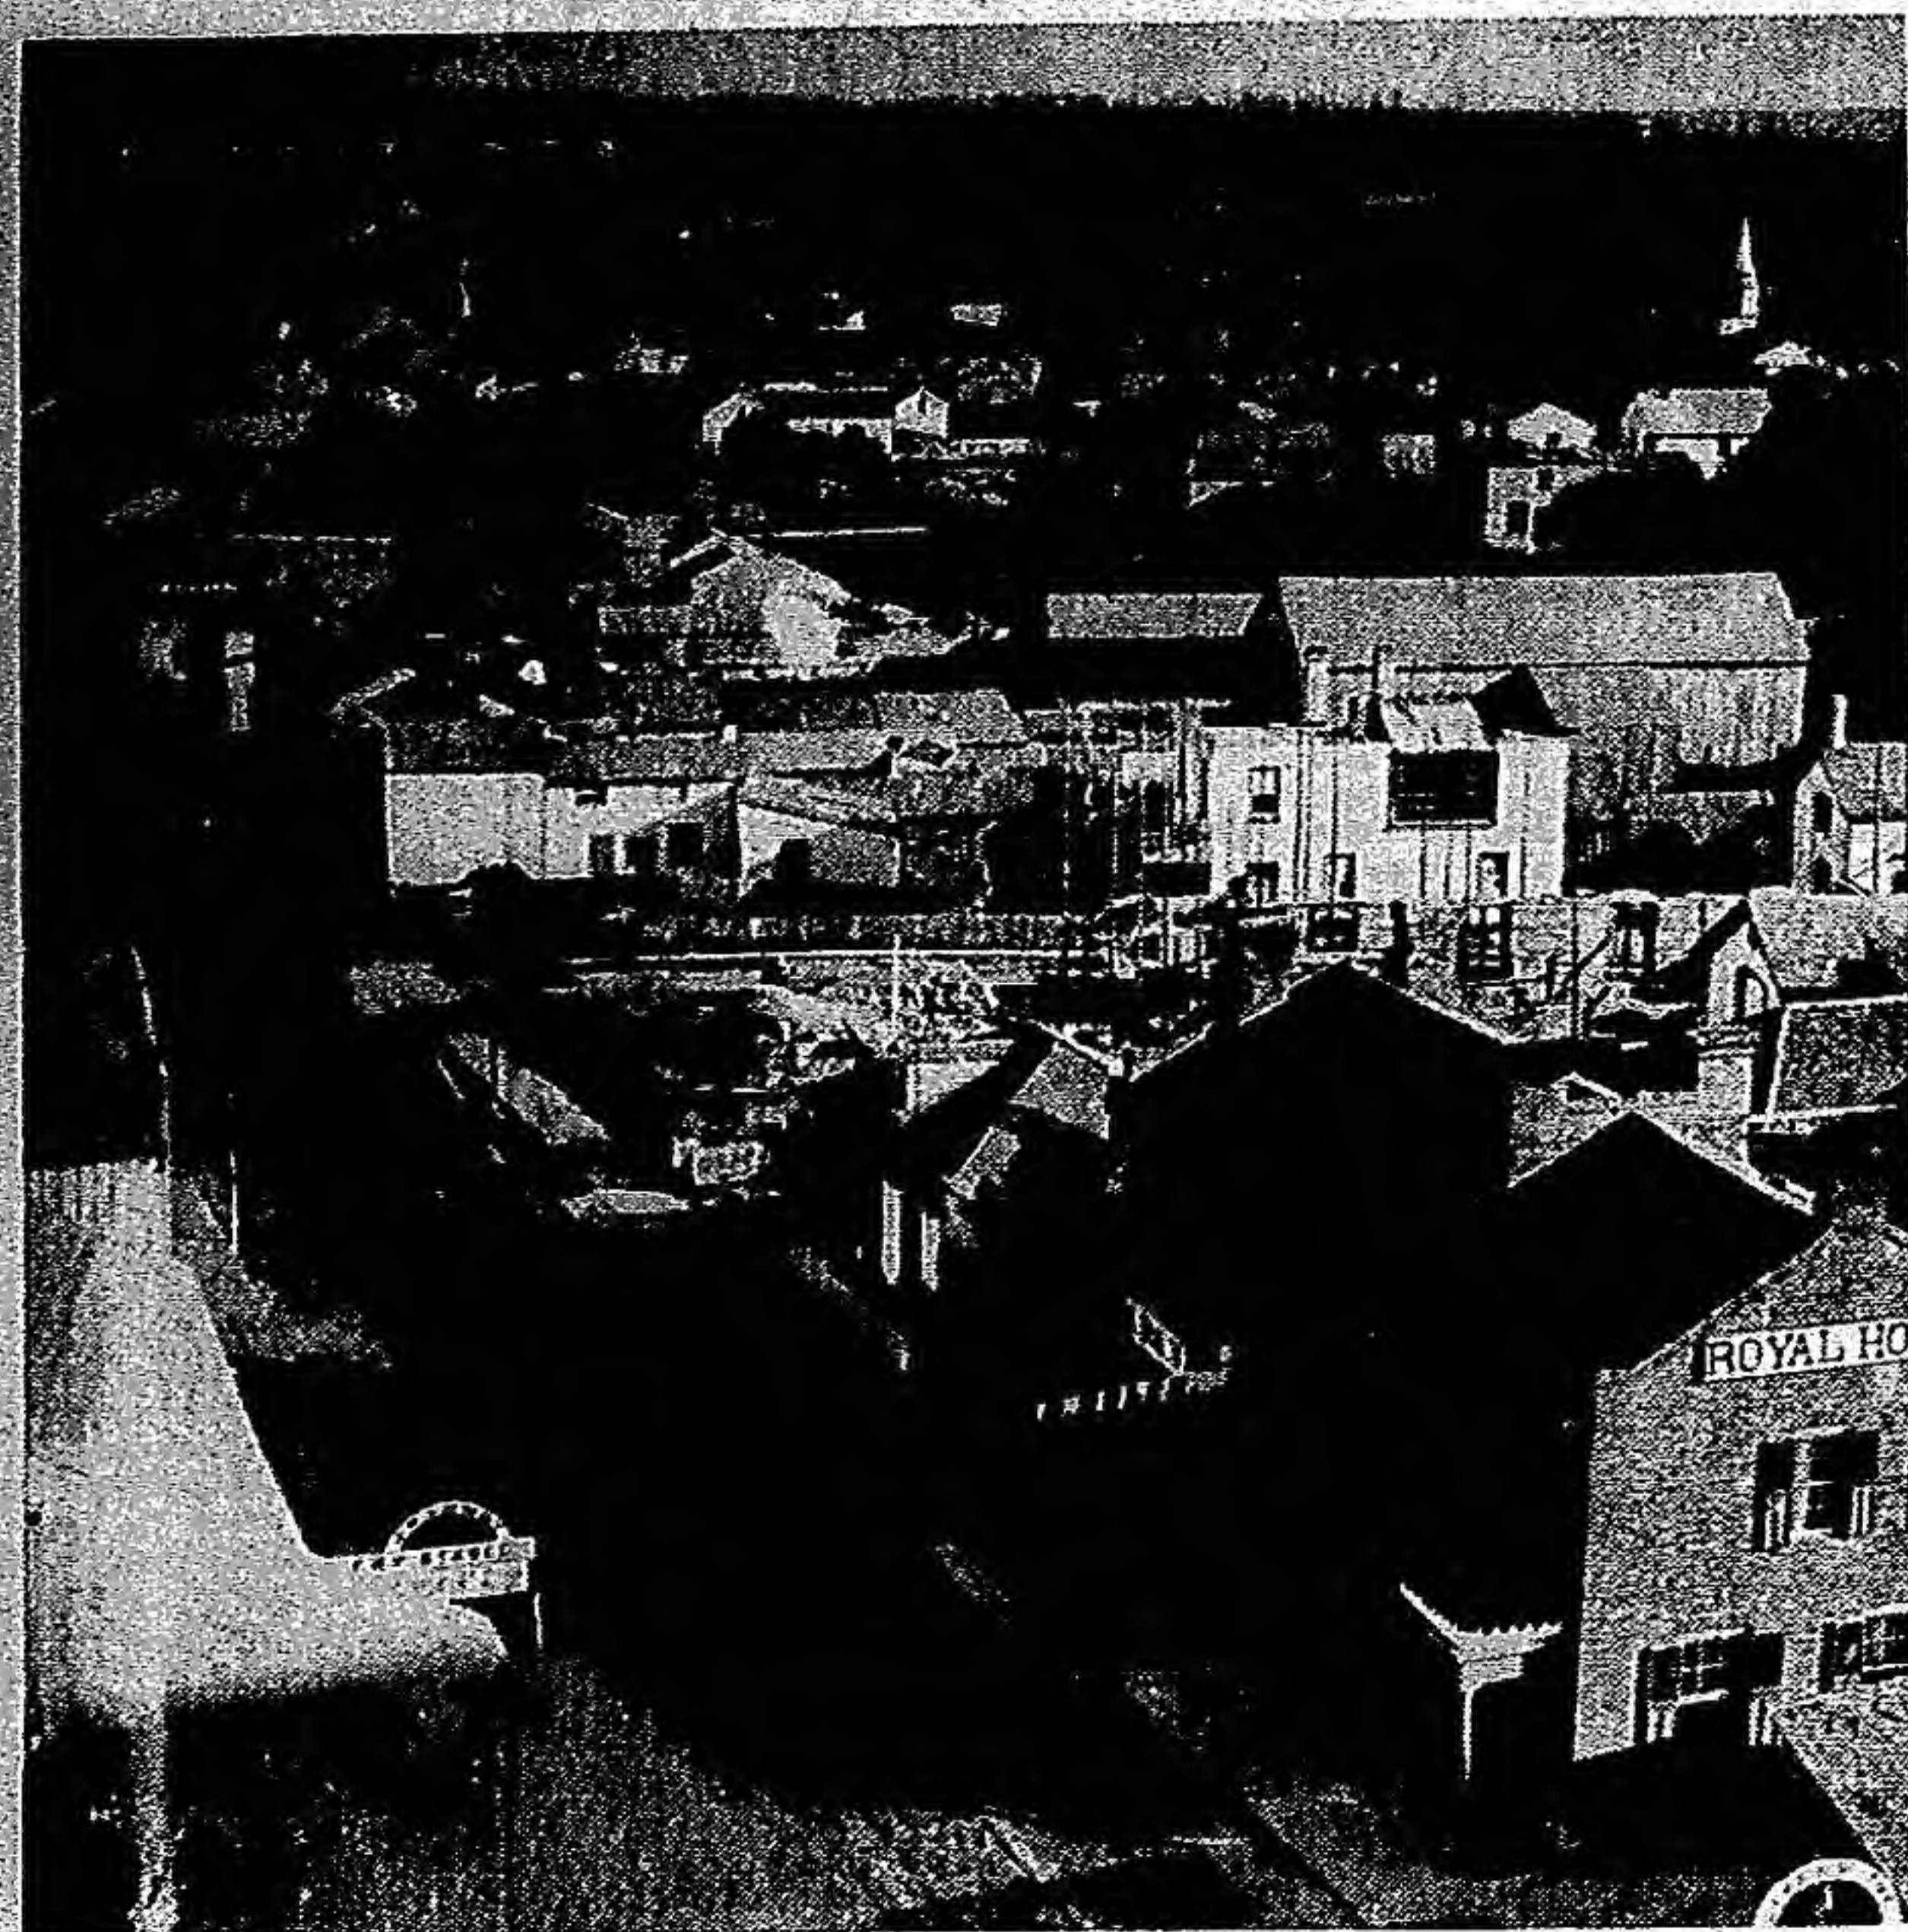

Our friend, the financial editor, could come out and help us reduce our farm costs. He would have to take, say, 20 cents per hour, but he could find some other source of income. And I think it is the duty of some of our writers in the papers not only to write, but tell us how to reduce our costs.

Come out on the farm and take a group of ten farms. Put in an accounting system. Put the farmers right on a good sound business. And get this food cost down! It is a shame for the farmer to hold up food costs when our friends know the cost could come down. Cheerio.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

An Editorial Supplement

In another of the series of old photographs of Newmarket, taken in 1878, we have this view to the south-west from the steeple of the Christian church showing the old Royal Hotel, and the partial construction of the Methodist church, now Trinity United church. In the distance is the Presbyterian church and in the rear corner, the spire of the Anglican church. The photographs were brought to The Era and Express office by J. Norman Wright, Detroit, former Newmarket resident, who found the pictures in an old trunk.

Toronto Scottish Here June 19 Regiment Has Brave History

The guest band for the Newmarket Veterans' Association Second Annual Pilgrimage on Decoration Day, June 19, will be that of the Toronto Scottish Regiment. Their appearance here will excite considerable comment and interest. The following article tells the history of the regiment which begins on July 1, 1915, when the regiment was organized as the 75th Canadian Infantry Battalion with one company of the Mississauga Horse as the nucleus.

This battalion was recruited by the late Lt. Col. S. C. Beckett who was in command until 1917 when the regiment was taken over by Lt. Col. Colin C. Harbottle, C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D. During world war one, the officers and men of this regiment won one V.C., five D.S.O.'s, one Bar to D.S.O., 36 M.C.'s, seven D.C.M.'s, 143 M.M.'s, one Two Bars to M.M., nine One Bar to M.M., nine M.S.M.'s, four Belgian Croix de Guerre, 25 Mentions in Dispatches.

Under the command of Lt. Col. Beckett, the regiment embarked on March 29, 1918, and proceeded overseas on April 1, 1918. After further training in Bramshot Camp, England, it embarked for France on August 11, 1918, where it first entered the line at Poperinghe, Belgium.

Later the same year, it fought on the Somme, and subsequently participated in all major engagements in which the Canadian Corps had a part, being awarded 15 Battle Honours.

These are the Honours inscribed on the regiment's colors: Somme 1918, Passchendaele 1917, Amiens 1918, Arras 1917-18, Vimy 1917, Hill 70, Drocourt-Queant 1918, Amiens 1918, Canal du Nord 1918, Valenciennes 1918. In addition the regiment also won the following honours: Ancrre Heights, Ypres 1917, Scarpe

1918, Hindenburg Line 1918, Sambre.

The 75th battalion embarked for Canada on May 31, 1919. In February, 1920, the regiment was reorganized to what is now known as The Toronto Scottish. Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, is the Colonel-in-Chief of this regiment and presented the regiment with their present colors in 1939 during her visit to Canada.

A few days before the outbreak of war, September 3, 1939, the regiment was ordered to mobilize as a machine gun battalion which it had become in 1936. The regiment landed in England December 17, 1939, the first complete unit to land in the United Kingdom as part of the first Canadian division.

During the years 1940-43, the regiment experienced many interesting episodes. In April, 1940, it provided the guard for Buckingham Palace. In June, 1940, part of the regiment had gone as far as Brest in France when the evacuation of Dunkirk forced all troops back to England. Early in 1941, the second division arrived in England and the Toronto Scottish were chosen as their M.G. battalion. Various operational roles were given the second division during 1941-1942, by far the most important being the raid on Dieppe August 19, 1942. A detachment of the regiment with their commanding officer, now Brig. Gen. G. S. Gostling, went in support of the infantry units on that memorable day in the history of Canada's fighting forces.

In 1943, training became much more strenuous in preparation for the invasion of Europe. At this time, the 42 Mortar was added to the regiment along with their machine guns. After several months of hard training in Southern England, Wales and Scotland, the regiment moved to

Dover and after several weeks' stay there, they left early one morning for London where they parted for France with the second division, landing on the Normandy coast on July 7, 1944.

The regiment took part in every battle in which the second division was engaged as well as giving support to third and fourth divisions, the 43rd and 49th British divisions, the Polish division, some American formations and the three famous Scottish divisions, the 15th, 51st Lowland divisions and 52nd Lowland division.

May 5, 1945, saw the end of fighting in Europe and the Toronto Scottish left Germany on July 13, 1945, for home. They marched up University Ave. on October 28 where Lt. Col. Ellis, M.B.E., gave the dismissal after almost six years' service overseas.

The regiment is very proud of the job they did in the last war. The various awards made to Toronto Scottish officers, n.e.o.'s and men were 1 C.B.E., 2 D.S.O.'s, 3 O.B.E.'s, 6 M.B.E.'s, 4 M.C.'s, 8 M.M.'s, and 29 Mentions in Dispatches, 1 Commendation G.O.C. Canadian Corps, 2 Croix De Guerre Avec Palme De Vermeil (French), 1 Croix De Guerre Avec Palme De Bronze (French), 1 Croix De Guerre Avec Etoile De Bronze (French), 1 Croix De Chevalier de L'Ordre de Leopold II Avec Palme, 2 Croix de Guerre 1940 Avec Palme (Belgian), 3 Bronze Crosses (Dutch), 1 Meritorious Conduct Cross (Dutch).

In February, 1946, the regiment was re-organized under the command of Lt. Col. Ellis as an infantry regiment in an armored division. To this end training is being undertaken with emphasis on building a strong complement of officers and n.e.o.'s.

New Veterans Homes Built Solidly

Newmarket — Last Saturday, the 30th house was occupied at the new Armitage Heights subdivision on Eagle St. It was little over eight months since construction of the low rental houses started last summer.

The construction of the 50 houses for the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation by Carter Construction Company got underway last August 18. The first three were completed and occupied on March 15, 1949. Forty of the houses, which are called type C, each has full basement equipped with warm air heating furnace which is stated to be guaranteed to keep temperature at 70 degrees inside the house when the outside temperature drops to ten below.

The remaining ten houses are called B type and are equipped with space heaters. On this type of house, the floors are insulated with Airfoil, a reflective type of insulation. There are no basements in the B type houses.

All the houses are built to comply with the standards of construction as laid down by the National Housing Act and the National Building Code. Other features contained in the houses are two-inch rock wool insulation, hardwood flooring, three-piece bathroom with built-in tub, built-in metal medicine cabinet and gauge A linoleum on kitchen and bathroom floors. The kitchens are equipped with heavy wiring, have adequate cupboard space and a built-in sink.

The rooms are walled with a semi-fire proof gypsum board covered with a washable resin paint. The bedrooms are painted with three coats of interior enamel and hardwood floors are filled and waxed. Basement walls are eight inches and of a full seven foot poured concrete construction with an approved waterproofing on outside walls from footing to two feet above the grade line. Concrete footings are 16" by 8" deep with continuous field tile taking away all excess water into the sewer laterals.

All the houses are equipped with "Fleetlite" aluminum sash in which the storm sash is installed. Fly screens are to be inserted before the contractors move off the job. According to the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the grounds will be landscaped, either seeded or sodded, and there will be a generous distribution of trees and shrubs. Driveways and walks are to be installed as soon as the weather permits.

Present rents are at $33.50 per month for the smaller B type house and $40.50 per month for the C type.

Everything seems to come with a rush about the first of May, not the least being the annual upheaval of House-cleaning. Gardening has to take second place somehow. But did you ever notice how once in your garden, everything else is forgotten? Gardening is one thing that will not occupy the new homemakers up at "Armitage Heights" this year, and possibly not next year either.

I'd better make the official opening up there last Saturday my first item in this pot pourri. It was an important event in the life and annals of our town, as those who attended will affirm. Up to now we have heard little except that a quantity of mud existed there, and what a time those who already occupy their new homes had moving in! But on Saturday the sun shone, and the air was agreeably warm, the ground had dried out, indeed it looked "baked," and catwalks and platforms which were thoughtfully provided, really were not needed.

The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has certainly created a wonderful new section of our town, and so far as I could see there is absolutely nothing lacking except telephones which cannot be installed for a few months yet — and surely that need can be put up with for a short time. One of the speakers for the Corporation said that we would not know the place this time next year, since before they leave they intend to landscape the whole section and seed it down or sod it.

Give Keys To Vets

After the speeches the five keys were presented to each of the five Veterans, with their families present, so that folks would know definitely that Veterans with a family were given the preference. Each head of a new home was called on to say a few words, and as we heard them we knew they were very glad indeed, and we were all glad for them, and with them.

Then we were invited to inspect the new homes—the five must have been impatient by this time, for I hear that once the official opening was over, they all moved in and were able to celebrate May Day under delightful conditions, even if not completely settled, for believe me, all they needed to do was place their furniture, for there was no wrestling with contrary stove pipes or balky furnaces. No indeed — the larger houses have splendid new furnaces, and the smaller ones have cabinet heaters, all connected. They all have electric hot-water heaters and electric ranges. The basements in the larger-sized houses have high ceilings, so one doesn't have to bend his head as he moves about. The laundry is down there, and in cold weather one can dry the clothes there. As you step in the front door, there is a cloak closet and in the bedrooms are plenty of clothes closets and linen closets. But why go into detail—there was just everything, complete even to floor covering.

And now I come to the part that howled me over first, last, and all the time, and guess what that is? The view from every window is grand. I am sure the town must look pretty nice at night, all lit up—and when all these new homes are lit, folks travelling No. 11 Highway will be made aware that quite an extensive town lies just east of Yonge St. and on consulting road maps will say "Newmarket must be quite a good-sized town." Good old Newmarket! Having Gay Time

We have been having a gay time this Easter in our town. The last play put on by the Dramatic Club, the splendid hobby show, and Leslie Bell Singers, last Friday evening, then the afternoon affair on Saturday I have just told about, and this week will be the Musical Show put on by the Lions. I expect I have missed out a few of the events but it certainly has been a happy Easter season for Newmarket. And guess what? Such a nice, such a delightful thing, happened to me, to crown everything! Mrs. Caruthers and her daughter, Ruby, on their return from an Easter vacation in Bermuda, brought me a Passion Flower. If you know how beautiful they are, then you will know why I am so pleased. If not, then I'll tell you about that most beautiful flower in another article, for I have made this too long, I fear. They are something like an orchid in coloring, and they have a most unique story which you can plainly follow, as you look into the heart of that Southern flower that blooms at Easter only, and which is so named from its fancied resemblance to the emblem of Christ's passion.

Footnote-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE
AURORA EDITOR

Last Friday, the taxpayers of Aurora endorsed the installation of artificial ice in the Aurora Memorial Arena. They did much more than that. By marking their ballots in favor of the ice proposal they demonstrated not only the high regard which they have for their civic responsibilities, but their municipal solidarity.

Admittedly, only slightly over 50 percent of those eligible to vote turned out to mark their ballots. This, however, is in keeping with the modern Canadian trend in plebiscites and elections, and is in no way unusual.

First and foremost, Friday's vote stands as a wholehearted declaration of the confidence and faith the people of Aurora place in their council and in the judgment of its members. Council worked hard on the artificial ice proposal, spending many extra hours in preparation and planning. Undoubtedly they find this evidence of public support most gratifying.

The result of the plebiscite, too, conveys in no small measure the high regard felt by the taxpayers for the capabilities of the three-man committee which prepared the brief. A product of long hours and considerable research, the brief gave a comprehensive report on artificial ice installation in general, with specific recommendations for Aurora.

Last week's balloting also gives strength to the belief that Aurora is not merely a collection of houses and properties but is a well-knit community whose alert, up-to-date outlook can result only in progress and general municipal development. It reflects, additionally, the realization by the townspeople of the needs of their youth, together with a sympathetic understanding of the problems faced by youth and an endeavor and determination to aid in their solution.

Following the installation of artificial ice and the completion of the necessary alterations it has been proposed that the arena be placed in the hands of a competent board of managers. This is to ensure that the Aurora Memorial Arena is run profitably and in the best interests of the community. We would like to suggest that this board of managers include not only astute businessmen but representatives of the average interested citizen, and in addition someone qualified in the field of sports and recreation.

This would ensure not only a highly competent selection of sports and recreational activities, but a selection based on the desires of the people of Aurora, yet in keeping with the profitable management of the arena.

Ontario's New Premier Has Family Political Tradition

Ontario's new premier, 53-year-old Leslie Frost, whose home town is Lindsay, was born in Orillia. He practised law in Lindsay and went into politics about the same time at Attorney General Leslie Blackwell who was also in the running for leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative party.

The provincial treasurer, Mr. Frost, held a substantial majority over the other three candidates, Mr. Blackwell, Kelso Roberts and Dana Porter. Mr. Blackwell moved that Mr. Frost's election be made unanimous after the first ballot. Both Frost and Blackwell were lawyers, both badly wounded in the first war, and both entered the Drew cabinet in the same year.

The family has a long political background. John Carew, father of Mrs. Frost, was a member of the provincial house, representing West Victoria. Mr. Frost's grandfather, Andrew Miscampbell, was a M.P.P. Mr. Frost entered politics by way of his law practice in Lindsay. His brother and partner, the late Cecil Frost, was also prominent in politics.

It was the hope of Mr. and Mrs. Frost to get away for a few days' rest after the hectic convention days but it was not known where they would go.

ARE "NERVES" A SIGN YOU'RE GROWING OLD?

Often as a woman approaches middle life, her nerves get bad, and she accepts this as a sign of age. But why let yourself become edgy, run-down — or so nervous you cry without cause — at any time in life?

For nearly fifty years wise women have been meeting this situation happily — by getting plenty of rest, fresh air, wholesome food and by taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to build them up. For the Vitamin B₁, iron and other needed minerals in this time-tested tonic help build up your vitality and aid in toning up the entire system — so you can face the future with confidence.

Give Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a chance to help banish nervousness and doubts. It helps you rest better, and feel better. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance.

Hope For World Vested In Children - Dr. Marg. Arkinstall

Queensville — The regular meeting of the Evening Women's Auxiliary of the United Church was held on April 26 at the home of Mrs. Art Alexander, with Mrs. Chas. Milstead presiding. The theme of this meeting was "Fellowship through Love," and the devotional part of the program was given in an interesting manner by Mrs. Leonard Wellman.

Dr. Margaret Arkinstall of Newmarket opened the child study course, speaking on "Discipline." Dr. Arkinstall spoke nobly of Dr. Watt, the organizer of the Nursery Schools in England for the children whose mothers worked, during the last war, and she mentioned that the reason that parent education or child study was begun just over 25 years ago, was because of the vital importance of childhood to later human development, and that the only hope of improving the world in the future is proper training of the children now.

Dr. Arkinstall went on to say, "that discipline is an attempt on the part of parents and others to arrange conditions so that the child will be helped to learn desirable forms of behavior. The goal is a happy, well adjusted, mature adult who is capable of taking his place in a democratic society, who will be willing to sacrifice personal gain for common good. A child when born is neither good, or bad, but has everything to learn."

She believes, "there should be neither rigid restrictions nor complete freedom but a combination of both. Obedience should not be an end, in itself, but a means to a greater end. There are no rigid rules of child training, but flexible principles applied in terms of stage of development of the child, and the discipline progresses and changes as the child learns. Home should be neither child centred or parent centred, but a combination of both. Parents should control the home. Parents should be a guide, a philosopher, and a friend, to their children."

This course is being planned to help women understand children better, and all those in at-

Formerly of Queensville Mrs. G. S. Stairs Dies

The many friends of Patty Aylward Stairs, wife of Gordon S. Stairs, were shocked to hear of her sudden death at Halifax on April 21. She was born at Queensville and was the younger daughter of the late James H. and Marion Aylward. She was educated in the public school here and Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, and was also a graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Previous to her death she was a member of the Chebucto Chapter I.O.E. and educational secretary of the Municipal Chapter.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, James and Donald, of Halifax, one brother, Byron, Queensville, and one sister, Alma (Mrs. W. Muncy), Vancouver.

The funeral took place on Saturday, April 23, at St. Andrew's United Church. Interment was at Willowbank cemetery, Wolfville, N.S.

tendence were pleased with the interesting and helpful talk Dr. Arkinstall gave.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Titus Porcine and Mrs. J. D. Murrell, and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Russel Strasler, Tuesday evening, May 17.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
Last Wednesday afternoon, the Queensville Women's Institute held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Byron Aylward. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. Stan. Eves, in the chair, and the roll-call was answered with the payment of fees for the coming year. The nominating committee brought forth its report of the officers appointed for the coming year, and a committee appointed to begin plans for the District Annual Convention to be held June 6. The Queensville Women's Institute is sponsoring the Tag Day for the Blind, May 7. Contribute freely to this worthwhile cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knights, Toronto, had Sunday night supper with Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hoover and son of Lemonville visited Mr. and Mrs. N. Hoover on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Smith, Ravenshoe, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curl, Mount Pleasant.

Sucker fishing is the order of the day for most of the boys around here.

Mrs. A. Monkman Elected Gormley W.I. President

Mount Pisgah — The annual meeting of Gormley Women's Institute was held this year at the home of Mrs. W. A. Monkman, Aurora. Considerable correspondence was dealt with, also letters again from Hailsham W.I. in England to say shipment of soap had been received. Reports were rounded up and sent away and then Mrs. Monkman conducted the election of officers for 1949-50. Hon. pres., Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mrs. C. E. Conner; pres., Mrs. A. Monkman; first vice pres., Mrs. R. C. Baycroft; second vice pres., Mrs. I. Reid; sec. treas., Mrs. N. H. Brown; assist. sec. treas., Mrs. J. Gamble; district director, Mrs. H. A. Smith; directors, Mrs. George Smith; Mrs. Allan Pope, Mrs. Garnet Evans; auditors, Mrs. Bernard Kays, Mrs. H. Biddlecombe; pianists, Mrs. Bernard Kays, Mrs. H. A. Smith.

Six ladies from Gormley Women's Institute attended the W.I. district project on Personality and Dress at Vandorf hall on Wednesday, April 27. It was under the capable leadership of Miss Burke of the department of agriculture and was enjoyable and instructive. Too bad more ladies did not attend. Many thanks to Vandorf for their kind hospitality.

Princess, Mrs. Roosevelt Hobby Club Favorites
Hope—The Hobby club held its April meeting at Mrs. Allan Baldson's home with a good attendance considering the busy season on the farm. After the opening sing-song led by the president, Mrs. J. Farr, the daily prayer for world peace was repeated.

The roll call, "a famous lady I would like to meet and why", brought varied and interesting replies. Princess Elizabeth and Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt were the leading favorites. The secretary, Mrs. C. Pinder, announced Blue Cross premiums must be paid by May 10. Mrs. W. Taylor and Mrs. Herb Wright became members. One could easily see the cultivation of one of Mrs. A. Baldson's hobbies by the profusion of beautiful foliages and plants in her home, while many coveted silver trophies proclaimed the skill and showmanship of good cattle by her husband, Allan, and son, Lloyd.

Mrs. E. Evans conducted the question box and Mrs. W. Wilnot gave current events. It is to be hoped all farm people will be interested in the coming conference at Guelph of the International Food Producers, and Canada's problem of what to do with our agricultural surpluses. We wonder if an eight hour day or even ten and a non-purchasing period on the part of the farmer, like consumers have done in the case of butter, is a partial solution.

Suggestions for the annual June bus trip will be welcomed at the May meeting so everyone come and express a viewpoint. The roll-call is to be in the form of an exchange of plants or bulbs at Mrs. R. Long's home, "Suits Us", in Sharon May 17.

KESWICK

An invitation is extended to all ladies to come to the regular monthly meeting of Keswick Women's Christian Temperance Union to be held May 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Hopkins. Mrs. Serriek is the new president of the W.C.T.U.

An interesting feature of the United Church Sunday-school is the large young men's Bible class, known as the Four-Square Club, which is growing in membership. 10 a.m. is the time Sunday-school opens, church service follows at 11.

On Sunday morning, May Day, the United Church was filled and thrilled with the service. The sermon on the subject of "Procrastination," and the music by the choir (22 present) was specially good. Twenty-four have joined the church recently through profession of their faith, and also through transfer of membership from their former churches.

Next Sunday, May 8, Mother's Day service will include baptism of children. The church is undergoing some alterations in the chancel and also is being newly decorated this week, ready for service on Sunday morning.

Please reserve Monday, May 16, for a musical treat to be held in Keswick United Church at 8 p.m., consisting of piano recital by the pupils of Mrs. Harold Pollard, and vocal pupils of Mrs. A. Cowleson. Collection for chancel and choir fund.

Hartman W.A. Send Quilt to Mission

Hartman—The April meeting of Hartman W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Mel. Oldham. The president, Mrs. Gertrude Murphy, presided. The ladies decided to give a heavy quilt which they made this winter, to be sent to the United Church Missions.

Mrs. Carl Moorehead gave a very interesting paper on "An Old Way to New Life." Misses Marlene and Margaret Rose, Margaret Leek and Kathleen Covert sang two musical numbers which were enjoyed by all. The meeting closed with the Benediction. Mrs. Orman Toole gave two contests and a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Jordan and Mrs. Harvey Leek. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Merton Toole.

A lovely miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Pegg last Tuesday evening for Miss Edna Pegg.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ferguson and wee Mary enjoyed a lovely Easter holiday at Mrs. Ferguson's parents at Thornhill.

POPLAR BANK

The next Institute meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Carl Link. The program is in charge of the home economics and health committee. Roll-call will be a recipe and a buttered sample of a muffin. The girls from the "Cereal Shelf" Club will demonstrate the making of good muffins. Come and don't forget your muffin.

Just before payday you've probably looked at what's left of your wages or housekeeping money and said: "Where does the money go?" A company must ask itself the same question, and each year provides the answer in its annual report.

The dollars we received last year—for gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil and other products—went this way:

Crude Oil and other raw materials we needed to make the products took the first big slice. Depending on where you live your oil may have come from Arabia, from South America, or from deep in the United States. In Canada only Alberta produced crude in quantity.

Manufacturing and packaging came next—complex and intricate refining operations are needed to make the hundreds of oil products which find thousands of uses in our homes and industries, on our highways, in the air and on the sea.

Transportation was the next big bite—products must move over wide areas to serve all communities in Canada.

Marketing was fourth. Marketing provides the products you need wherever you are—power, heat and lubricants for factory, farm and home. Marketing supplies that local businessman, the dealer; and if you're a fuel oil user, keeps oil in your tank!

Taxes to provincial and federal governments absorbed 7.06 cents. And this does not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—takes from 22 to 35 cents out of every dollar you spend for standard grade gasoline.

Profit was 4.9 cents out of each sales dollar. From this we paid three cents to shareholders as dividends. The rest was used—together with a lot more money we borrowed and still more obtained by sales of investments—to help meet your increasing needs for oil!

SERVING CANADIANS

THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?"

IT DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!"

IF YOU WERE a farmer it might seem that way at first glance. But take another look!

Those fine crops, which mean so much to Canada's health and economy, often depend upon chemical fertilizers. Weed and pest destroyers, orchard sprays too, are but a few of the services that chemical research extends to agriculture.

Through good times and bad, the chemical industry plows a straight furrow, ever moving forward to create better things for farm, industry and home. Look to chemistry with confidence for a finer future... and to the C-I-L oval symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

Though thousands of miles separate mother and child; though their opinions differ and sense of values vary, their love for each other, which is the truest, purest love, unites them for all time and under all circumstances. It is Mother who is always forgiving and conciliatory. It is Mother who forgets the unpleasant—and cherishes the pleasant memories. It is Mother to whom we dedicate Sunday, May 8, with remembrances to comfort and delight her in small measure as she comforts and delights us all our lives.
